Hundreds Of Planes Pound N. Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Marines smashed again and again today at North Vietnamese hilltop positions near the North-South Vietnamese border despite heavy losses. In the air, U.S. planes shot down four MIGs in some of the biggest raids of the war.

A U.S. military spokesman said Communists striking from the twin peaks of Hill 881 on the edge of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) killed 49 Marines and wounded 156 others—the heaviest losses suffered by the Leathernecks in one action since last summer's Operation Hastings.

The spokesman said the Marines had killed 186 North Vietnamese in the fighting which began yesterday and was still raging today. Operation Hastings broke the back of a 1966 Communist attempt to take over South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces. Today's battle was almost a repeat of that effort.

At the same time, a spokesman said North Vietnam had sent a new elite unit of soldiers into the area south of the DMZ-troops better armed, trained and disciplined than previous units. Marines who ambushed a group of them said they were four inches taller than the usual Communist troops and carried Soviet assault rifles.

U.S. planes striking from 7th Fleet carriers, from the Marine base at Da Nang and from Thailand carried out 133 missions yesterday—the greatest raid in six months and one which threw an estimated 500 to 600 planes against the Communist North.

Today, U.S. Navy and Air Force planes began systematically dismantling North Vietnam's air force bases with strikes against the MIG airbase at Kep, 37 miles northeast of Hanoi, and against Hoa Lac, 24 miles west of the Communist capital. The bases had been hit before and today the Communists sent up swarms of MIGs to attack the invaders.

New air records were set in South Vietnam as jet planes lashed the dug-in Communist positions on the jungled twin peaks of Hill 881 where at least two U.S. Marine battalions (more tha 3,000 men) were attacking near the border of Laos. A spokesman said 577 sorties were flown Sunday.

One Phantom jet was lost over North Vietnam with its two man crew. Eight more Americans were killed when two helicopters collided in flight at the Bien Hao airbase 15 miles north of Saigon.

The Marines battling in one of their bloodiest fights in months had driven the same elite Communist force from Hill 861 two miles to the west with the aid of air strikes and artillery and now were storming the Communist caves and bunkers right at the Demilitarize Zone (DMZ).

Marin Bureau Of Narcotics Advocated By Grand Jury

Problem Threatens 'Lives Of Children'

Establishment of a five-man narcotics bureau within the sheriff's office, to operate both in and outside of cities, is advocated by the Marin County Grand Jury.

The grand jury, in an interim report to be presented to the county board of supervisors tomorrow, calls the problem of juvenile narcotics one threatening "the lives of our children and the future of our country," and declares: "We believe that no price is too great to pay to protect either."

Its enforcement work would be "dovetailed" with an expanded narcotics education program in the public schools, to be underwritten by the county schools office and the school districts, under the grand jury proposal. Steps toward the school program already are underway, reported Clifford S. Lund, grand jury foreman. The supervisors will be asked tomorrow to authorize the enforcement bureau.

Marin's police chiefs, in an unanimous resolution, have voted to endorse the central narcotics bureau setup, according to the grand jury report.

The narcotics problem was investigated by the grand jury's special assignment committee. Its probe followed the arrest of 19 youthful marijuana suspects in an Inverness house where, according to the report, "food supplies were limited mainly to beans and rice, filth and sanitation offended the least acceptable standards of our society, and yet four kilos (approximately 10 pounds) of marijuana was confiscated."

In its investigation, the committee reported the following findings:

"It is common knowledge and has been verified by this committee that marijuana cigarettes and illegal drug pills are readily available in our schools at approximately $1 and $5 each, respectively. (It should be noted that the prices will vary somewhat according to supply and demand.)"

A "typical case" involved 36 days of intensive investiagtion resulting in confiscation of 2,000 illegal drug pills "that would have, in all probability, wound up in our Marin County schools."

The jruy declared that, despite "a valiant and continuous battle" by police departments and the sheriff's office, "during the last five years to December 31, 1966, narcotic and drug arrests have risen six-fold in Marin County. Predictions based on arrests made in the first four months of 1967 indicate that there will be a three-fold increase over 1966 and an increase of some 17 times over 1962."

The proposed five-man narcotics bureau, with unmarked cars, would provide a central enforcement agency to which police would turn over all information regarding narcotics violations.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos will join the grand jury in urging that the bureau be set up, foreman Lund said.

The education program, the report declares, is even more important.

"Needless to say, little can be accomplished with the student if the teacher is not properly equipped to instruct him," says the grand jury. "Herein lies the weakest point in all programs that have come to our at-

It's May Day With Standard Moscow Attack

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Andrei A. Grechko, the new Soviet defense minister, opened May Day ceremonies in Red Square today with standard Soviet attacks on the United States, West Germany and Red China.

No new weapons were among the 330 that rumbled through the square in the annual parade. Observers believe the armed forces are saving up surprise weapons for a splash display on Nov. 7, the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Workers throughout the Eastern Hemisphere and in parts of Latin America celebrated labor's traditional day. Although Labor Day is celebrated in September in the United States, American groups held loyalty marches Saturday in cities from Newport, Ore., to New York.

The Moscow parade displayed antiaircraft rockets of the kind used in North Vietnam against American planes, antiballistic missiles and 110-foot intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Among those on the reviewing stand were Communist party

16 In Minnesota Die In Tornadoes

WASECA, Minn. (UPI) — National Guardsmen today joined stricken Minnesotans in clearing the rubble of tornadoes and savage winds that killed at least 16 persons and injured an estimated 100 last night.

Spring's second onslaught of tornadoes struck Iowa and Southeast Minnesota just nine days after a band of twisters took 55 lives in northern Illinois.

At least 10 tornadoes chewed up farmland in the Fort Madison, Iowa, area and then roared into Minnesota, ripping and slashing apart at least eight communities.

They struck last and most viciously at this county seat town of 5,900 where five persons died and an estimated 50 were injured. Albert Lea, close to the Iowa-Minnesota border, counted two dead and close to 50 injured. There were two dead in Owatonna, Minn., and one each in the towns of Alden, Freeborn and Clark Grove.

Away from the tornado belt, on the shores of Lake Superior at Duluth, the same storm system claimed four more lives, three boys who had been carried away by savage waves sweeping the waters and a Coast Guardsman who died trying to recover their bodies.

National Guard units turned out in Waseca and Albert Lea to guard against looters and to assist the homeless. The American Red Cross set up a shelter in an armory for victims in Albert Lea, where authorities estimated 60 to 100 homes were destroyed or damaged.

There was no immediate estimate of the tornadoes' damage, but its record was plain to read: homes shattered; cars, trucks and buses tossed about like playthings; telephone and power lines torn away; fires breaking out in the wreckage.

TELLTALE MARKS OF BATTLE—Patrolman Robert Glynn of Sausalito police went through personal items in car found abandoned on a Sausalito street with four bullet holes in windows and body, after he exchanged gunfire with two men believed to have held up Bottle Shop on Bridgeway.

Bridge Leaper, 21, Survives The Fall

A San Francisco youth plunged 238 feet from the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday and survived — only the third known person to do so.

Gene A. Robens, 21, was conscious and not seriously hurt when plucked from the chilly waters of San Francisco Bay by a Larkspur boater.

The plunge duplicated a leap taken by a friend two years ago who also lived to tell about it.

Robens, a runner for the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange and student at San Francisco City College, was reported in good condition today in Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco.

Doctors said x-rays showed no broken bones. His only injuries, they said, were leg scrapes and lung congestion from aspiration of sea water.

Witnesses said Robens seemed to be enjoying an afternoon stroll on the span with hundreds of other persons when he suddenly placed his hands on the railing and vaulted over.

He landed near a sailboat operated by Edgar Rust III of 7 Walnut Avenue, Larkspur, and was picked up. A passing Coast Guard cutter was quickly hailed and took Robens to Fort Point Coast Guard Station and a waiting ambulance.

Robens' mother, Bessie Robens, said her son had a history of psychiatric problems and had been under care of a psychiatrist.

Officers said Robens told them he "just couldn't take the life I was leading anymore."

Robens' friend who survived the leap was Tom Tawzer, 18, of Livermore, who plunged from the same area of the bridge on Jan. 11, 1965, and swam to a passing cargo ship.

Robens has told his mother he was moving out of their home into a rented room Saturday. However he stayed overnight and went to confession and mass Sunday morning.

Officers said Robens took a bus to the bridge, strode to a spot between the south tower and midspan, then jumped.

Another person known to survive a leap from the bridge was Cornelia Van Ireland, who plunged in 1941. Franicis Kennedy jumped in 1961, lived to tell about it but died 10 days later.

Cloudy Weather, But No Rain

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Except for a weak storm off the coast which may cause some cloudy weather, California should enjoy fair weather the rest of this week.

Temperatures will rise to normal levels after weeks of sub-normal conditions with the mercury several degrees on the low side.

The switchover from an unduly prolonged rainy season to fair weather started yesterday with clear skies all over the state. For the first time in weeks there was no measurable precipitation anywhere.

Marin County's Seal Missing

This news came from William O. Goold, state chief of exhibits at the fair, who said Marin's seal was among the missing when he started to get all seals together in preparation for the May 22 dedication of the new state fairgrounds.

The wooden seals were made for the San Francisco World Fair in 1939. Goold said it would cost about $300 to replace Marin's seal.

Von Braun Sees Moon Trip By '70

DALLAS (UPI)—The United States has a "fighting chance" of getting a man on the moon by the end of this decade, Dr. Wernher von Braun said yesterday.

"With no major setbacks, I think we have a chance of making it," the German-born rocket expert said.

Tiburon Bank Is Sold To Sierra National

Tiburon National Bank has been sold to Sierra National Bank of Petaluma, it was announced today.

A joint statement by William Nave, chairman of the board of Tiburon National, and Abe Solomon, chairman of the board of Sierra National, said both boards have approved the purchase. The purchase price was said to have been over $1 million in assets, to be distributed to stockholders of Tiburon National Bank.

Solomon said approval by the controller of the currency is expected by tomorrow. The five offices of Tiburon National will then be added to Sierra's chain, he said.

Sierra has branch offices in Boyes Hot Springs and Petaluma. Tiburon National has offices in Tiburon, Alto, Greenbrae, Corte Madera, and Novato, and has approval for an office in Sausalito.

Combined, the new Sierra operation will have assets totaling $21 million in its eight-branch, two-county area.

Sierra was opened in 1963 with assets of approximately one million dollars. In the four-year period it is reported to have increased its assets to $13 million.

At the close of 1966, Tiburon National reported assets of $9,936,247 and a net loss for the year of $210,499. The bank also reported a loss of $108,202 in 1965.

In February, Charles Tijerina, who had headed the bank since its opening in 1963, retired as chairman of the board because of injuries suffered in a fall. At a special meeting of the directors he was replaced by Nave.

Solomon said the purchase of Tiburon National by Sierra will not mean large-scale changes for the bank's customers, and present personnel will be retained.

$2.1 Million In Gold Stolen

LONDON (UPI)—A gang of bandits hijacked a shipment of $2.1 million in pure gold bullion today after temporarily blinding the driver and two guards of a panel truck with ammonia.

The theft of the 140 gold bars untraceable once it is melted down—was the second biggest robbery in British history. The biggest was the $7.3 million Great Train Robbery of 1963.

The gang threw ammonia at the driver and two guards and beat up one of them. All three were taken to hospitals after they were found tied up in the back of the abandoned van.

The bandits overpowered the three men in the London district of Islington. They drove off with the truck and dumped it after removing the bullion. Passersby found the van after hearing noises from inside.

Two of the crew suffered eye injuries and one had head and chest injuries.

The gold belonged to a merchant bank, N. M. Roth-

Liquor Store Robbers Escape In Gun Battle

Three men robbed a crowded Sausalito liquor store at gunpoint Saturday night and escaped after a gun battle a few blocks away with a lone police officer.

The trio stole $297 from the Bottle Shop, 771 Bridgeway, after tying up an employee in a back room and herding customers to one side of the store as they entered.

Kurt E. Guy, shop owner, told police the three entered the store at about 10:20 p.m. and one of them, carrying a .38 caliber revolver, said: "This is a hold-up. We mean it, no fooling."

The man held the gun against the head of Paul J. Keever, 56, of 22 Heather Way, Larkspur, the employee, and ordered him to the back room. He tied Keever's hands and feet with

ABORTION BACKER PREDICTS VICTORY

Sen. Beilenson Takes Up His Fight To Rewrite Old State Law By Accident

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A young senator from Beverly Hills predicts victory this legislative session in his four-year-long fight to liberalize California's 95-year-old abortion law.

The Senate may pass the bill this week — the 18th of the session — says Democratic Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, 34, "there's no problem in the Assembly," and his guess is that Gov. Ronald Reagan will sign it.

BY ACCIDENT

The abortion fight is one Beilenson, the father of three, took up virtually by accident, with no compelling personal reason and even though he discloses "I don't like abortions."

But he said in an interview, it's hypocritical of Californians to permit an estimated 100,000 illegal abortions yearly and still retain a law that allows the artificial termination of a pregnancy only if the mother is in danger of death.

Beilenson's bill — which won Senate committee approval early Friday morning — would make it easier to get an abortion, but definitely would not turn California into an "abortion mill," the senator maintains.

THE PROPOSALS

The measure would allow abortions only if:

The physical or mental health of the mother was threatened.

There was a chance the child would be physically or mentally defective.

The pregnancy was the result of rape or incest.

No pregnancy of longer than 20 weeks could be aborted.

The key test was approval of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which approved the measure following an emotional six-hour hearing, says Beilenson.

During the debate, doctors disagreed on the measure while the most united opposition came from the official hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church.

WAS UNAWARE

A mutual friend brought the situation to his attention, says Beilenson, and he took up the issue in 1963 when he became an assemblyman and Knox decided not to sponsor the bill again.

Until then, Beilenson says, "I was basically unaware of the problem . . . It's never been a 'thing' with me."

At first, he was virtually alone and his bill failed to get from committees to the floor in 1963 and again in 1965.

"Now, I have nearly everyone for it, except for the Catholic Church."

Beilenson's fight to liberalize the abortion law has drawn thousands of letters to his office -- many of them vicious.

"It just doesn't bother me anymore," he says, but adds, "I don't enjoy being called a murderer."

PRAISES FOES

However, Beilenson notes that the Roman Catholic Church, in its opposition, "on the whole has been decent."

Beilenson, who is Jewish, was asked if he would consider an abortion for his own wife, if she qualified under the provisions of his bill.

He thought for a while and shook his head: "I just don't know."

But he says, "I'd like to have the option of going to your own physician instead of going to Tijuana."

"The tragedy of the whole thing is there is no right or wrong about it. It's a matter of personal conscience."

Steel Maker Denies Import From Overseas

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman's charge that American steel companies probably imported much of the foreign steel from which they want trade protection is denied by one major producer.

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., raised the charge yesterday in a report to the House on the 70-nation trade talks at Geneva.

Joseph L. Block, board chairman of Inland Steel Corp., said in Chicago his firm "has purchased no imported steel and has no intention of doing so."

Curtis said the U.S. steel industry "has more than held its own against competing materials," and added that "the very industries whose representatives are opposing imports in Washington may be in fact large purchasers of foreign steel."

Block said Curtis "has given credence to certain shopworn, discredited and false comments made by individuals not truly familiar with the industry."

Block said foreign steel is entering U.S. markets below domestic prices because of overseas government subsidies and cheaper labor costs.

He said "special temporary legislation should be enacted by the Congress to partially close this gap."

The steel industry launched a drive Feb. 8 for enactment of a temporary levy on steel imports in order to, it said, protect an essential defense industry and maintain living standards of American workers.

Crash Survivor Is Ready To Fly

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP) — The lone survivor of the Air Force radar picket plane which crashed off Nantucket Island says he is ready to fly in the same type of plane again as soon as he is able.

"I like to fly," said 1st Lt. Joseph L. H. Guenet, 29, of Island Pond, Vt., at a hospital news conference yesterday. "I believe the aircraft is basically a sound aircraft."

The deaths of 15 other crewmen in the crash Tuesday night brought to 50 the toll in three crashes of the huge, $7.2-million Otis-based planes within 22 months.

Otis has temporarily grounded the craft for inspection. Congressional and Air Force investigators also are studying its safety.

Guenet, father of two young children, said the plane was at about 2,000 feet some eight minutes after taking off from Otis "when we felt something like a small explosion and then there was fire on the right side."

"We went into a dive and then leveled off and then we hit something hard," he said.

"The first thing I knew after that I was under water and swimming up toward fire. When I broke the surface there was fire all around me. I could hear the sound of the flames and the waves. There wasn't anyone."

Guenet said he was at his post in the center of the plane as it prepared to ditch and could not tell if the pilot, Col. James P. Lyle, 47, maneuvered the burning craft away from Nantucket toward the open sea.

"Col. Lyle did not talk to us except to tell us to prepare for ditching," Guenet said. "But that is normal procedure whenever you are over water."

Lyle formerly was assistant deputy to personnel, Western Air Force, at Hamilton Air Force base.

Witnesses of the crash reported seeing the plane swerve away from the island and head out to sea, crashing about a mile off Nantucket's southern shore.

"I could see antennae and lights on Nantucket but no boats. And I saw planes overhead, but they weren't doing me any good. I know it was ridiculous to think that way. But the most important thing was when that sling came down from that helicopter," Guenet said.

Surveyor 3 Claw Moves Solid Rock

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — "We moved it very gently, just enough to find out if it was a rock lying on the surface, or a piece of boulder protruding," said a Jet Propulsion Laboratory spokesman.

The flexible arm of Surveyor 3 was nudging a rock on the moon yesterday to help scientists learn how the lunar surface will respond to astronauts landing on it. the one-inch rock was solid, scientists concluded, because the robot spacecraft's claw did not break it.

Surveyor photographed the rock through color filters to add detail for specialists who will analyze it later. The photographs were among 861 taken yesterday to bring the total taken to 5,487 since landing on the moon 11 days ago.

Surveyor's previous scratchings have indicated that the lunar surface near it is strong enough for men to walk on.

Teen-Age Moscow Atheists Disrupt Easter Sunday Rites

MOSCOW (UPI) —Hundreds of policemen, some on horseback, pushed back thousands of jeering atheist teen-agers attempting to disrupt Easter Sunday services at Moscow's two largest Russian Orthodox churches.

Mounted police charged into a crowd of 5,000 teen-agers cursing and jeering priests and worshippers outside Yelokhovsky Cathedral. Other police prevented a crowd of 2,000 youths from disrupting services at historic Novo-Devichy Monastery.

Some elderly women trying to reach Yelokhovsky were caught in the mob and knocked to the ground during the charges. Several youths were arrested.

The mounted police rushed the crowd at Yelokhovsky when the youths broke through police lines. The teen-agers surged toward the cathedral fence as robed and bearded priests marched outside the cathedral in a symbolic search for the risen Christ.

The mounted police forced the crowd 10 yards back from the fence.

The Kremlin has warned Soviet teen-agers that violence is no way to stamp out religion here. But officials have appeared unwilling so far to take the steps to prevent the traditional Easter mob scenes.

Florida Hurt From Lack Of Rain In April

But Floridians are screaming for cool rain. For all of April, the state had no measurable rain. Some sections, now on forest fire alerts, haven't had rain since February.

Most of the Sunshine State hasn't been this parched in a quarter century. Weathermen had to go back to 1898 to find the mark broken by the drought in the Tampa area.

The Weather Bureau says rainfall in the state for the year is 35 to 40 per cent below normal.

Secretary General Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Grechko made a milder speech than usually came from his predecessor, the late Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky.

In his six-minute speech, he charged that the "monopolistic bourgeoisie" in the United States are responsible for the Vietnamese war.

Chinese Charge d'Affaires An Chih-yuan and an aide walked out in protest against the mention of China.

The 63-year-old defense minister also accused some elements in West Germany of increasing their activity to change European frontiers and get nuclear weapons.

In Saigon, students scuffled with police following a May Day rally at the Saigon Zoo. The rally was among four held by labor unions in the city. Some students and labor union members unfurled banners calling for an end to the war. When police moved in to seize the banners, the scuffling began.

Cuban Prime Ministe Fridel Castro will preside over May Day speeches in Havana but for the first time since he gained power he was not listed to speak himself. The key address will be delivered by Maj. Juan Almeida Bosque, a guerrilla comrade of Fidel in the days of the revolution against President Fulgencio Batista.

Chinese Communist Chairman Mao Tse-tung made his first May Day appearance in five years as he and his heir apparent, Defense Minister Lin Piao, rode in an open car through hundreds of thousands of Chinese at a rally in Peking.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said it was Mao's first public appearance since last November and the first time during China's current power struggle that Mao's chief adversary, President Liu Shao-Chi, did not attend a mass gathering with other Chinese leaders.

Tam Board Will Answer Questions

The Tamalpais High School District board will answer questions from anyone in the district on any aspect of the district operation today at 8 p.m. in the Little Theater at Redwood High School.

Postcards announcing the meeting and soliciting questions were sent to parents of all district students, and the board will answer questions already submitted in writing as well as questions from the floor.

Contributing To Delinquency Charge

Wendell Eugene Hobdy, 20, of Torrance, Los Angeles County, was charged yesterday with contributing to the delinquency of a minor after San Rafael police found him at the wheel of a car containing five juveniles and several cans of beer.

Hobdy, an airman with the 78th Field Maintenance Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base, will be arraigned at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Marin Municipal Court. Bail was set at $609.

Jewelry Stolen

Chester V. Scupholm of 50 Bella Vista Avenue, San Anselmo, told San Anselmo police Saturday that about $325 worth of men's jewelry and vases was stolen from his home, probably on Thursday night.

Trial Slated On Marijuana

A trio charged with conspiracy to smuggle marijuana into county jail was scheduled today for jury trial in Marin Superior Court the week of July 10.

Setting for the estimated eight-day jury trial followed pleas of innocent by Eugene O. Boehm and Merton Wesley Spaulding. The third defendent, Mrs. Roberta Marie Buckley of Walnut Creek, pleaded innocent last Monday.

She and Spaulding also have pleaded innocent to an additional joint charge of marijuana possession. They will be tried on that count at the same time.

The grand jury is proposing that the county schools office hire a qualified consultant in drug abuses, and conduct in-service workshops for all junior high and high school teachers assigned to instruct units in dangerous drugs.

A special summer course for teachers in this field would also be instituted.

County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis and superintendents of San Rafael and Tamalpais High School Districts and Novato Unified School District have endorsed this plan, Lund reported.

Zone Hearing Is Set Tonight

The San Anselmo Planning Commission will have a public hearing today at 8 p.m. at city hall on zoning ordinance amendments tightening height, bulk and space requirements in residential zones.

The commission will also consider a new sign ordinance tightening regulations.

Michael F. Brady and Ronald O. Ulrich seek a permit for an auto repair service at 640 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, and the commission will review Western Associatin's permit for a car wash at 580 Red Hill Avenue.

Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Association and Ross Valley Savings and Loan Association seek resubdivision of lots at 11 Glen Road, and 52 and 64 Forest Avenue.

Novato Youth Cited For Marijuana Use

A 17-year-old Novato boy was cited to juvenile authorities Saturday for the use of marijuana, police reported.

The boy was turned over to the police by his mother when she learned that he had been smoking the weed, officers said.

Weapons Assault Trial Is Scheduled

Jury trial for Ronald Peter Koutz, 24, accused of assault with a deadly weapon, was scheduled today to start at 10 a.m. tomorrow before Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin Superior Court.

Koutz, of Oakland, allegedly attacked Lawrence Damonte Nelson in San Rafael with a club Dec. 15. Trial is expected to take three days.

The bank confirmed the value of the bullion was 750,000 pounds ($2.1 million).

The biggest was the $7.3 million train robbery in 1963. The train loot was in the form of old bank notes. Britain's largest jewel robbery was a $1.4 raid in 1965 on Carrington's, the Queen's jewelers.

The royal blue van was dumped in the district of Kentish Town, a few yards away from the house of a 55-year-old housewife, Mrs. Margaret Phipps. One of the guards used her telephone after he had been released.

"There was blood streaming from his forehead and the side of his head and he was holding his side," Mrs. Phipps said. "The other two men could not open their eyes. They looked badly hurt."

"I don't know who he phoned. I offered him a glass of water and after he drank he took some out to the other men."

18-Year-Old Is Missing

Linda Kronemeyer, 18, of 33 Pikes Peak Drive, Lucas Valley, disappeared in the family car Friday night and was still missiong today, sheriff's deputies reported.

The girl is described as five-feet, four-inches, 105 pounds, with brown hair and blue eyes wearing an orange blouse and white pants.

She was reported missing by her father, Robert, who believed she may be with a boyfriend who was leaving for Hawaii.

San Rafael Driver Hurts Neck In Wreck

A San Rafael man was injured when his car hit another from behind Saturday at 8:40 a.m. on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, near San Anselmo Avenue, in San Anselmo.

Daniel R. Jackson, 26, of 215 Bayview Street, Apartment 226, San Rafael, told police he had "dozed at the wheel" just before his car hit the back of a car driven by Kent D. English, 18, of 145 Piper Court, Fairfax. Jackson was treated for neck strain at Marin General Hospital.

Skis Are Stolen

Two pairs of skis and two pairs of ski poles valued at a total of $345 were stolen from the storage area of his apartment house, Ronald H. Treabess, 225 Nova Albion Way, told San Rafael police Friday. The theft occurred during the past two weeks, Treabess said.

B52 stratofortresses operating from nearby Thailand dropped thousands of pounds of bombs on the Communist positions carved out of the rocky hill but during the bombing pauses the enemy troops—identified as the veteran 241st Battalion—rose from their hideouts to hit the Marines with a murderous fire.

Two Drivers Hurt In Wreck

Two drivers were injured, one seriously, yesterday at 11:45 p.m. near the intersection of Almonte Boulevard and Shoreline Highway in Tamalpais Valley.

A northbound car driven by Irwin Alfred Rotchy, 39, of 15 Estates Court, San Rafael, crossed the double line on Almonte Boulevard and collided with one driven by Walter Joseph Landor, 53, of San Francisco, according to California Highway Patrol.

Landor was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a back sprain, shoulder and leg injuries. Rotchy was treated at the hospital for a cut nose and bruises.

Would-Be Span Jumper Is Saved

A Healdsburg real estate man was saved by a Golden Gate Bridge towman and a California Highway Patrol officer from jumping to his death Saturday at 9:35 a.m.

Patrol Officer Mark F. Fletcher arrived mid-span, to find towman Thomas Donoghue holding Ira Rollo Anthony, 63, of Healdsburg, who had climbed to the other side of the railing.

The two men pulled Anthony back over the rail. Questioned, Anthony told Officer Fletcher his life had been threatened and he had pains in his back and head. He was taken to San Francisco General Hospital for observation.

Old Barn At National Seashore To Remain

The old barn at Point Reyes National Seashore headquarters will not be razed for several years' according to Stanley A. Cain, assistant Secretary of the Interior.

County supervisors and several other Marin residents protested strongly against removal of the old barn. In reply to the protest, Cain said park plans do not include razing of the building for several years, giving the board of supervisors and the park service a chance to study the building.

$66 In Cash, U.S. Bonds Are Stolen

Sixty-six dollars in cash and four $25 savings bonds were stolen during the weekend from the apartment of Sharon Walker at 1563 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, Miss Walker told police yesterday.

Police said the thief may have entered through sliding doors which lead to a patio common to five other apartments.

Judge Sets Trial On Burglary Charge

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court today scheduled a three-day jury trial of Thomas Floyd Davis, 24, for the week of June 5.

Davis, of 4 Martin Road, Fairfax, is accused of the Dec. 22 burglary of Western Sport Shop at 902 Third Street, San Rafael. Police arrested him at gunpoint inside the store.

House Passes Rail Strike Delay Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House today passed emergency legislation to delay for a second time a threatened nationwide rail strike. The Senate was ready to follow suit, blocking a tieup scheduled to start Wednesday.

The House passed the resolution asked by President Johnson just a little over two hours after it cleared the House Commerce Committee. The Senate Commerce Committee approved the resolution, Friday, the day the President asked for it.

Thief Enters Two Autos On Campus

A thief entered two cars of College of Marin students in the school's Hillside Avenue parking lot in Kentfield, Friday, stealing a stereophonic tape recorder and eight tapes from one and metal auto emblems from the other.

The victims were Stephen Carlson of Stinson Beach, and Jeff S. Teather of 62 Lower Via Casitas, Greenbrae, sheriff's deputies said.

Auto Is Stolen

A 1962 Oldsmobile convertible, beige and green, with license number LOY 080, was stolen Friday afternoon from Antonio Casas, 424 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, police said today. Casas told police the car was stolen between 3:15 and 3:40 p.m. outside his home.

Disease Center Opening Delayed

Opening of a treatment center for sufferers from emphysema, bronchitis and other respiratory diseases, scheduled for today, has been indefinitely postponed, reported Mrs. Geneva Berry, executive director of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Association.

The delay is due to planning of details such as insuring that patients be eligible for Medicare, said Mrs. Berry.

The clinic is to be housed in Marin General Hospital under direction of Dr. Burt Richardson, and financed by Christmas Seal campaign money and a grant from the National Tuberculosis Association.

Rep. Rivers Believes In More War Pressure

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The chairman of the House Armed Services Committee claims the Vietnam war could be ended in a year "if we were to give the military the green light to bring these people to their knees."

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., said he agreed with Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, "that we should keep the pressure on in all areas, economic, psychological and military . . . let him (the enemy) know that aggression does not pay."

The South Carolina Democrat, a leader of the Hawks in the House, said Westmoreland would need more troops "because of the increased pressure he is applying and he is wanting to apply."

He would not estimate how many more would be needed than the 438,000 already in Vietnam, but said that eventually there would be more than 500,000 U.S. troops in Vietnam.

He made the statement in Meet the Press interview on NBC-TV.

Rivers said he thought a U.S. military victory is possible in Vietnam but "I think the full Air Force will have to be Air Force nwill have to be employed more than they are now."

He said, "The bottom could drop out of this thing overnight with the program the Joint Chiefs of Staff want to follow: neutralize the harbor at Haiphong (in North Vietnam) and seek these air bases, the destroying of these air bases, and apply the pressure, with our great superiority."

Asked whether he thought General Westmoreland had been ordered home to help the administration "stifle dissent," as some critics have charged, Rivers said the general, a fellow South Carolinian, "wouldn't be a party to any such thing as this."

Banned In Boston

BOSTON (UPI) — Anne Hutchinson was the first person in America to try to exercise women's right to assemble. She was banished from Boston in 1638, after being tried on charges of sedition and heresy.

Inverness One Up In Phones

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., engineers disconnected one telephone at Point Reyes in the quarter ending March 31 — but in the same period installed one new telephone at Inverness, according to subscriber figures issued Saturday.

Other Marin County communities gained telephones in various degrees. San Rafael added 231, Belvedere 106, Corte Madera 92, Mill Valley 81, Ignacio 46, Stinson Beach 36 and Sausalito 32.

Reed Trustees View Various Education Facts

Reed School District trustees had a day-long discussion on various facets of education at the Tiburon Lodge Saturday.

James B. Atkin, board president, said the board talked about educational philosophies and programs with principals and staff members.

The meeting was open, but "no one showed up" except Leo Souza, who recently was elected to the board, he said.

Atkin said the session, starting with breakfast at 8 a.m., lasted until 4 p.m., with time out for lunch.

The board wouldn't have time for such a lengthy discussion at a regular board session, he explained. It gave trustees a chance to talk about what the district has—and where it is going, and to assess what the community wants, he said.

King Fears Feelings Over Dissent

ATLANTA (UPI) —Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. warned yesterday there is a "very dangerous development" in the United States to equate dissent with disloyalty.

In an attack upon U.S. policy in Vietnam from his pulpit in the Ebenezer Baptist Church, the civil rights leader charged that Gen. William C. Westmoreland was brought home from Vietnam to wage "further escalation of the war."

Calling the United States the "greatest purveyor of violence in the world today," the Rev. Dr. King urged young men who believe the Vietnam war is "abominable and unjust" to file as conscientious objectors in the draft.

The congregation, which included black power militant Stokely Carmichael, twice interrupted the Rev. Dr. King with applause during his sermon and gave him a standing ovation when he was finished.

The Nobel Peace Prize winner praised Cassius Clay for refusing to be inducted into the Army because of his religious beliefs and opposition to the war.

"He is giving up even fame. He is giving up millions of dollars in order to stand up for what his conscience tells him is right," the Rev. Dr. King said.

The Rev. Dr. King equated his stand on Vietnam with his work in civil rights.

He said those, particularly in the press, who once praised him for his nonviolent tactics against segregationists such as former Birmingham, Ala., Police Commissioner Eugene (Bull) Conner, now denounce him "when I preach nonviolence against little brown Vietnamese women and children."

Magazine Sues Writer Lomax

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Look Magazine is suing television personality and author Louis Lomax for $3,500, which magazine officials say it advanced Lomax to interview North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh.

The suit was filed Friday by Cowles Communications, Inc., publisher of Look, and accuses Lomax of a breach of contract. Repayment of the money is demanded.

The publishers alleged Lomax did not obtain the interview because North Vietnam officials withdrew their invitation to him.

The Mercedes-Benz 250S is the $6500 car without an ounce of fat. It's also one of the world's superb road cars—yet this is no muscle-bound hot rod. There is ample space for five. The quiet at 100 mph is uncanny. And the 250S is flawlessly finished. Read 14 examples of the meticulous workmanship that makes this $6500 car worth every nickel.

The Mercedes-Benz 250S—the $6500 car without an ounce of fat or a trace of shabby workmanship. Clip coupon for more facts.

Mercedes-Benz motor cars: from $25,785 to $4,189

You may be able to afford a Mercedes-Benz without knowing it. Below are suggested retail prices* for 7 of the 15 Mercedes-Benz models:

600 Grand Mercedes	$25,785
300SE Coupe	11,916
230SL Roadster	6,262
230S Sedan	5,018
230 Sedan	4,386
200 Diesel Sedan	4,418
200 Sedan	4,189

*West Coast ports of entry, exclusive of options, state and local taxes if any.

1. Key suspension and steering gear parts are hand tightened with a special torque wrench. This ingenious tool squirts a blot of yellow paint onto the part only when the correct degree of pressure is applied. A follow-up inspector counts the blots as a final check.

Showroom spies: Count the blots yourself. Scrunch down and peer under the front end of the 250S. There they are, a series of telltale yellow dabs. A reassuring sight.

2. The severest critics of Mercedes-Benz cars work for Mercedes-Benz. They're called inspectors, and there's one for every 11 factory employees.

There are some utterly inhuman inspectors too. If an automatic checking device found a fraction of a millimeter error in cylinder dimension, the entire engine block drilling assembly line would instantly shut down.

24 pounds of primer

3. Before it's painted, the 250S is plunged into a primer bath and sunk out of sight while a thick anti-corrosion coat seeps into every crevice. It emerges 24 pounds heavier and years more rustproof.

4. Orthopedic physicians helped design the 250S seats, and Mercedes-Benz runs its own upholstery shop to build them. Fine wire coil springs are interwoven and interlocked by hand, to make sure that cushions keep their shape for years. If you choose leather seat covering, you get carefully chosen leather, imported all the way from America.

5. Before the body is assembled, areas that will be forever sealed—such as the insides of the rocker panels—are swabbed with a zinc compound. Condensation and the corrosion it breeds are thwarted again.

6. The classic Mercedes-Benz radiator shape has endured for half a century without major change. The 250S radiator shell is made as if it were meant to last a half-century, too. First it is stamped from heavy-gauge steel. Then, it's rinsed in a chemical bath and coated with copper plating. A nickel coat, then hand buffing and the chrome-plating process. After the chrome has been applied, it's buffed by hand once more.

7. After the outside has been chromed and painted, the inside of each hubcap gets a generous protective primer coat.

Not a speck of dust

8. After its primer coat has been sanded smooth, the 250S glides through a series of paint processes where air is constantly filtered to eliminate the tiniest mote of dust. An enamel coat is electrostatically sprayed, baked hard and wet-sanded. Then comes a final coat sprayed by hand. If a bubble or blob catches the inspector's eye, back the car goes to have the offending panel repainted.

9. Doors, hood and trunk lids are opened and shut continuously during assembly. To touch up tiny nicks or scrapes, every 250S is pounced upon by a man with a small can of paint and a fine brush before it leaves the factory. Result: no tiny nicks or scrapes.

10. Each wheel—including the spare—is dynamically and statically balanced before being mounted on the car.

11. The 250S reaches a maximum speed of 112 mph. Its 6-cylinder, single overhead camshaft engine is built as if it were meant to run forever at the limit.

Example: connecting rods are machined to 6 different weights and selected to form matched sets for each engine.

Each completed engine hums for over one hour in a test room, with a final full-speed flourish under the watchful ear of an inspector. If he hears something funny, it's no laughing matter. The engine is promptly torn down.

12. The 250S body is composed of 16 different sheet metal gauges. After it is welded into a single rattle-free unit structure, it is ground, buffed, filed and sanded by a crew of specialists. Vital body seams are then packed with pewter, blowtorched and rubbed smooth again.

384 ounces of prevention

13. Twenty-four pounds of a gummy, plasticized permanent undercoat are slathered on the 250S underbody and into the wheel wells after priming and prior to painting.

14. Mercedes-Benz does not keep its safety story a secret. The firm accepts its moral responsibility to help protect those who drive its cars. Altogether there are 28 Mercedes-Benz safety features, from a patented body design built to fold on violent impact and delay shock from hitting the passenger area, to fine points like a rear-view mirror that snaps off if struck.

The end result

The product of all this devotion to detail is an amazing automobile—obviously well finished, but also capable of over-the-road performance that shames most other $6500 cars.

Features like a 4-speed automatic transmission, power steering and brakes, electric windows and an automatic rear-axle load leveler are all included in the $6500 price.

For $5998, you can buy a 250S without automatic shift or power steering. Even so, it is hardly a "stripped" version.

PRISCILLA ELVIS

Elvis And Sweetheart Marry In Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Elvis Presley married 22-year-old Priscilla Ann Beaulieu today in a garish Las Vegas Strip hotel in a ceremony attended by a small group of relatives and friends.

The richest rock 'n' roll singer of them all exchanged vows with the gray-eyed brunette in ceremonies conducted by Nevada Supreme Court Judge David Zenoff in the quarters of Milton Prell, owner of the Aladdin Hotel.

A wedding breakfast followed in a private dining room of the hotel after a brief press conference.

Presley, 32, and Miss Beaulieu arrived in the desert gambling spa early today and took out a marriage license at 3 a.m. They were taken to the Clark County courthouse by friends who met the couple at McCarran Airport when they disembarked from their rented private Lear jet.

Thereafter they retired to the Aladdin Hotel where private security guards and Presley's personal entourage kept newsmen and curious onlookers away.

Elaborate preparations were made at the Aladdin where a small banquet room just below the main casino was set with a head table for 25 and nine tables set for eight persons each. A security guard kept curious gambling patrons from descending the stairs.

Miss Beaulieu is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Joseph Beaulieu, now of Travis Air Force Base. She met the singer while both were in Germany in 1959. She has four brothers and a sister.

She was living with Presley's father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Presley at the family mansion, Graceland, when she graduated from a Memphis high school in June 1963.

"I wanted to finish school in this country," she said at the time.

In the past, Presley has been linked romantically with several Memphis beauties and with film stars including Natalie Wood and Ann Margret.

Auden Honored For His Works

NEW YORK (UPI) —W. H. Auden, poet, playwright and essayist, will receive the 1967 national medal for literature in a ceremony next fall.

The National Book Committee yesterday named the English-born author as winner of the prize, which is accompanied by $5,000, for his overall work.

Auden, who became an American citizen in 1946, published his first volume of poetry in 1932. He won the Pulitzer prize in 1947 for "The Age of Anxiety: A Baroque Eclogue."

Talk On Regional Government Set

Stanley E. McCaffrey, president of San Francisco Bay Area Council, will speak on "What's All This About Regional Government?" at a noon luncheon May 11 in the Peacock Gap Country Club.

The event is jointly sponsored by Marin Property Owners Association, Marin County Real Estate Board, and the chambers of commerce of Marin County, Corte Madera, Mill Vally, Novato, San Rafael and the Tiburon Peninsula.

Bolinas Tourist Problems To Get Supervisors' Study

Tourist problems in Bolinas, War on Poverty Finances, and award of contract for construction of the Community Mental Health Center are among the items on tomorrow's agenda for Marin County supervisors.

The meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center.

Hearing on the West Marin master plan, earlier set for 1:45 p.m. tomorrow, will be continued to the same hour May 16.

Request of Bolinas Community Inc. for an additional resident sheriff's deputy in Bolinas is item six on the agenda. County administrator Alan Bruce will recommend against the request.

An attempt to settle accounts between the county and the Marin Economic Opportunity Council, which took over the Marin War on Poverty in February, will be discussed as item nine.

The council owes $48,873.80 to the county for running poverty war projects during the delay in council operation, but council directors do not want to pay the sum until there is a detailed account of expenditures.

Contract on the much-discussed mental health center is set to be awarded late in the day. It is item 31.

Budget Not Ready For Tonight's Meeting

The scheduled preliminary budget will not be ready for presentation to the Tiburon Sanitary District board meeting at 7:30 p.m. today.

Don Lethbridge of accountant George Bitter's office said changes in the district's operation and pressure of business in the office delayed the budget's preparation. He said Bitter will request an extension of time.

Only Cut Lip From Accident

Eric Stephen Tainter, 19, of 15 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, suffered a cut lip when his car struck a parked truck on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Terrace Avenue at 3 a.m. yesterday.

The California Highway Patrol reported Tainter was westbound when he fell asleep at the wheel and his car crossed the roadway and struck a truck parked on the eastbound side.

The truck registered to Donald Ippolito, a Kentfield volunteer fireman, was pushed back into a parked car owned by Helen Hoxie of Ross, officers said. Tainter was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Psychedelic Show Slated At Church

Big Brother and the Holding Company will create a "psychedelic show" with the Headlights at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Unitarian-Universalist Church, 24 Channing Way, San Rafael.

The church and the Marin Jewish Community Center are jointly sponsoring this as the fourth in five programs in a spring cultural series. The final program will be Renaissance music by the Goliard Players, on June 3.

Lower Corte Madera Tax Held Possible

Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher's proposed Corte Madera town budget for the fiscal 1968, which will be presented to the town council today at 7:30 p.m. at town hall, may allow a decrease in the town's tax rate, Usher said.

He said the total expenditures in his proposed budget, $771,344, are 2 per cent higher than this year's expenditures, but an increase in assessed valuation should cover that 2 per cent, and an increase of more than 2 per cent should mean that the town's $1.04 per $100 assessed valuation tax rate could be lowered.

The council may set dates for special meetings to study the budget.

The problem of parking around the village square may be settled. The village square association and Corte Madera chamber of commerce have both recommended that parking on the periphery of the village square be limited to two hours, that all-day parking be retained on the Menke park area on Montecito Drive, and that diagonal parking be retained on Tamalpais Drive.

The council may award a contract for paving the east parking lot and a handball court at the town park. Seven bids were received Friday. Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael was low at $9,209.26, and Ghilotti Brothers Inc. of San Rafael was high at $12,493. The project was estimated at $10,682.50.

Usher said several letters have been received both supporting and opposing Eric Norstad's request for a home occupation permit to make ceramics at 30 Alta Way, which will be considered.

The council may adopt ordinances setting zones for five areas recently annexed to Corte Madera, and will consider enforcement of a zoning ordinance prohibition of signs in windows.

Ike Defends Vietnam War

PALM DESERT (AP)— "America doesn't have to apologize for her part in the war—she can be proud of it," said former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"I hope America will wake up to the fact that our soldiers are dying for something we believe in," he said.

Then he and his wife Mamie prepared to leave San Bernardino by train late today for their home in Gettysburg, Pa.

Since January the Eisenhowers have vacationed at their winter home in Palm Desert. They started the annual visits in 1954.

Historian Claims Russia Has Lost 12 Cosmonauts

STANFORD (UPI) — A Stanford University historian says American authorities know 12 cosmonauts have been lost in Russian space flight mishaps although only one has been announced.

The first announced Soviet space mission fatality was Vladimir Komarov, killed on his return to earth April 24.

"It's merely the historical truth," Julius Epstein said yesterday, claiming he has reams of evidence, including names, of Soviet cosmonauts who were launched into space and never heard from again.

Epstein is a research associate at the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace.

"Now is the time for the government to make the deaths public for the sake of accurate history," he said.

U.S. Policy not to disclose Soviet space disasters which the Russians do not announce themselves is based on the State Department's desire "not to embarrass the Russians," Epstein said.

The Central Intelligence Agency has reported Russian space accidents to President Johnson, according to Epstein, and some of the "hushed up" mishaps were known to European and American publications.

Epstein cited a space mystery which involved an announcement by former Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev that a cosmonaut would send greetings from space to the United Nations General Assembly at its 1960 meeting.

"It didn't happen," Epstein said. The cosmonaut, believed to be Piotr Dolgow "was shot into space Oct. 11, 1960, and was not heard from after 30 minutes," he said.

The historian declined to name sources but indicated they included Europeans and Americans.

Quake In Greece Takes Five Lives

IOANNINA, Greece (AP) — A sharp earthquake struck this northwestern agricultural region of Greece today, killing at least five persons and injuring more than 30.

Police reported rescue teams were searching through the debris of nine villages leveled near the heavily guarded Greek-Albanian border.

Most of the crumbled houses were 2-story farm dwellings.

Five Hurt As Auto Rolls Off Panoramic

Five persons were injured, one seriously, yesterday at 8:30 p.m. when they were thrown from a car which jumped a guard rail on Panoramic Highway near Boot Jack Camp and rolled downhill.

Passenger Elaine Zopaka, 25, of San Francisco, was in poor condition today at Marin General Hospital with a concussion and scalp injuries.

The driver, Sherman P. Clay, 21, of Illinois, a radioman 3/C at Treasure Island Naval Base, was operated on for a leg injury and reported in good condition today at Oak Knoll Naval Hospital, Oakland.

Passenger Ray William Chute, 20, of Alaska, a seaman apprentice at Treasure Island, was also reported in good condition, with a spinal injury and bruises at the Naval hospital.

Passenger Doris J. Mohagen 19, of San Francisco, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a sprained wrist and hand, and Roberta E. Dillman, 21, of San Francisco, was treated for cuts and bruises.

California Highway Patrol officer Edward N. McClintick said the northbound car, heading downhill on Panoramis Highway, went off a curve, over a guard rail, then rolled down the embankment.

Two passing motorists, Ron and Judy Tierney of San Francisco, provided blankets and aided in rescuing the victims, McClintick said, as did Marin County Firemen and a Mount Tamalpais state park ranger, John Johns.

Two Floodlights Reported Stolen

Theft of two $2.50 floodlights was reported yesterday to Mill Valley police by Mrs. Fae I. McTaggart, 58 Shelley Drive. They were taken Saturday night from outside her carport, she said.

Mrs. Edith De La Torre of 302 Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley, reported yesterday to police that three windows in her home had been damaged by B-B shots.

400 Marin Scouts Show Off Skills

Twenty-three troops from the district, which covers San Rafael and North Marin, participated.

"Presidential citations" were given five patrols — among 69 patrols participating — for best performance in eight skills: physical fitness exercises, string burning, map and compass reading, lashings semaphore signaling, Roman chariot race, observaton trail, and height and distance estimation.

The winners were Mustang and Beaver patrols of Troop 67, Terra Linda; Elk patrol of Troop 56, Novato, and Moose and Otter patrols of Troop 73, Novato.

The commissioner's award for highest scoring troop went to Troop 67.

Ian F. Hardie, district commissioner, presented the awards and directed the program. Campmaster was Jay Crotty, district committee chairman.

I.Q. Strongly Linked To Genes

WASHINGTON (SS) — Heredity is far more important than environment in determining human intelligence, a Stanford University psychologist reported to the National Academy of Sciences meeting last week.

Dr. Arthur R. Jensen, from Stanfords Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences, based his conclusion on a new mathematical formula for deriving estimates of heritability. He applied this formula to past studies of identical and franternal twins.

The told the Academy his results decidedly contradict current notions that environment is primarily responsible for intellectual differences among people.

Noble Tradition Of Free Beer Is Costly Cause

WASHINGTON (ANS) — The moble tradition of free beer for visitors and workers in the nation's breweries has come under scrutiny by auditors from the government's general accounting office.

The tradition came off second best.

GAO found the practice is costing the government $1 million a year by law and long custom the beer is tax free.

What is really happening, GAO told Congress last Wednesday, is that the government through the tax emeption is subsidizing the beer companies' sales promotion.

The companies are prosperous enough, GAO said, to pay the $9-a-barrel tax on whatever beer they choose to give away at the breweries.

Cash Register, Money Stolen

Night manager Greg Worra told Sheriff's deputies he discovered the till missing after he had served a customer about 2:18 a.m.

Science Shrinks Piles Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

...Except In Unusually Severe Or Persistent Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a substance with the ability, in most cases—to shrink hemorrhoids, stop burning itch and relieve pain without surgery except in unusually severe or persistent cases.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, very striking improvement was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain and itching were promptly relieved. Then this substance starts right in to gently shrink hemorrhoids.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so. And it was all done without surgery, injections, narcotics or astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H®—the only formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids that contains Bio-Dyne®. Preparation H also lubricates to make bowel movements less painful, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

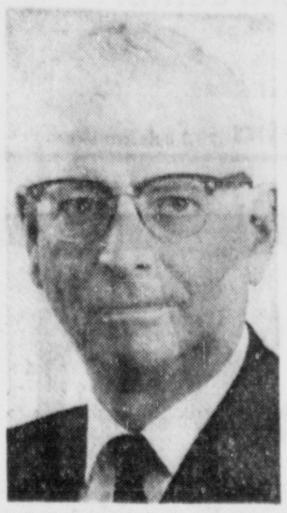
Dinner Marking Retirement Of Seminary's Dr. Oxtoby

By ALAN D. JONES

Dr. Gurdon Corning Oxtoby will be guest of honor at a dinner tonight at San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, marking his retirement in June as dean of the seminary after 38 years on the faculty.

Dr. Oxtoby-minister, doctor of theology, professor and dean — reached the mandatory retirement age of 65 last Thursday. His retirement will become official June 10 at commencement for this year's graduates.

The seminary has been home to Dr. Oxtoby for 54 of his 65 years — since 1913 when his father, William Henry Oxtoby, joined the faculty. He has seen the seminary grow from a small Presbyterian school to one of the leading church institutions in the nation.



DR. GURDON C. OXTOBY
Seminary dean retiring

Dr. Oxtoby recalled that his father drove a Model-T Ford in the early days when San Anselmo first covered one of its dirt streets with crushed rock, which motorists of the day shunned for fear of slashing tires on the sharp-edged stones.

For a man who has spent 54 years in one place, Dr. Oxtoby has done a tremendous amount of traveling. He studied at Berlin, Tuebingen and Jerusalem nearly 40 years ago, and since joining the seminary faculty in 1929 has toured, taught or lectured in Thialand, the Holy Land, Germany, India, Egypt, the Philippines and other nations.

Dr. Oxtoby became part-time dean in 1937, and in 1957 became dean of the faculty, continuing to teach Old Testament. In 1963 he was appointed dean of the seminary, requiring a reduction from his full teaching schedule.

Retirement will not mean inactivity for Dr. Oxtoby, who is just well started on a new career as author. His first book was published last fall, "Prediction and Fulfillment," a book on Old Testament prophecy.

He said retirement will allow him to devote full time to a second book, due at the publiser Oct. 1.

Not quite full time, in fact. Dr. Oxtoby will continue to lecture throughout the Presbyterian synod and beyond to lay and ministerial groups. In the past month, he has made flying lecture trips to Oergon, Nevada and Washington. He is an experienced amateur photographer and ofter uses his own slides and films to illustrate his lectures.

He will also be kept busy in his post as moderator of the Synod of California, highest elective state office in the United Presbyterian Church. Dr. Oxtoby was elected to a second term as moderator this spring.

Dr. Oxtoby's specialization on the Old Testament seems almost hereditary. His father, who became president of the seminary, was also a professor of Old Testament. A son, Dr. Willard Oxtoby, taught Old Testament before accepting a Yale University post as professor of the history of religions, and a son-in-law, Donald G. Carey, is an associate professor of Old Testament at a university in the Philippines.

Dr. Oxtoby's list of honors is too long to recount, but honors do not equate with stuffiness. One of Dr. Oxtoby's greatest pleasures in his continuing relationship with thousands of the seminary's graduates over the past half-century, most of whom he knows on sight.

And whoever heard of a stuffy magician? Dr. Oxtoby is not only a good parlor magician, he once taught courses in magic at the seminary for future ministers to use in youth work. Magic can open any doors of friendship and good will, Dr. Oxtoby said, by breaking the ice among strangers.

Negro Students Impose 'Exiles'

NEW YORK (AP) — The 71 Negro students at Columbia College have imposed various forms of resegregation upon themselves, according to a recent survey by the school newspaper.

The Columbia Daily Spectator said the Negro students, who make up slightly more than 2 per cent of the college's undergraduates, study and take their meals with each other.

They avoid extracurricular activites, and, in many cases, feel they are misunderstood by the white community around them, the paper reported.

Dr. David B. Truman, dean of Columbia College, said he was in substantial agreement with the newspaper's findings, which were reported in a special supplement entitled "The Negro at Columbia."

SURPRISED — Mrs. Clarence Stratton returned from work to her home at 282 Emerystone Terrace, Marinwood, Saturday, to learn that her license plate was pictured in the Independent-Journal. "My husband and son (Ronald) had seen it earlier and were trying to drop hints that I should read the paper," she said. "When I was glancing through the paper and saw it, I was really surprised." Mrs. Stratton won $35 and qualified for a chance for a trip to Hawaii.

Mountain Adventures In Summer Y Program

High adventures in the grand and rugged mountains of the Sierra and fighting the rapids on trips down the Rogue and Russian rivers are included this year for the first time in the Marin YMCA program of summer activities.

These and other innovations have enlarged the schedule for the association's 18th camping season—the first from its new home at 241 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia.

Rogus River float trip: For boys 15-18 years, July 12-17.

Russian River float trip: For girls 12-14 years, July 18-20; for boys 12-14 years, July 5-7.

Vagabond day camp: For boys 7-11 years, three two-week periods beginning June 26, July 10 and July 24.

High Sierra camping: For boys 12-17 years, Aug. 6-12 and Aug. 13-20.

Nomad Caravan: For boys 12-15 years, Aug. 21-28.

Bar 41 Ranch: For boys and girls 12-15, Aug. 4-22.

A family residence camp will be held in the Santa Cruz mountains July 28 through Aug. 6 and a family camp in the High Sierra from July 23 to 29 and from July 30 to Aug. 5.

Boys and girls aged 15-17 will volunteer to provide day camp experience for retarded children from Sonoma Hospital on the hospital grounds June 26-30 and July 10-14.

Bertram Dunshee Of Ross To Be Honored By Club

Bertram R. Dunshee of Ross will be honored at the 55th annual meeting of the Tamalpais Conservation Club Sunday at 1:30 p.m., at Bootjack Camp in Tamalpais State Park.

Dunshee, together with his wife Verna, has been in the forefront of the battle for parks, recreation areas and open space in Marin County, according to club president Esmond Milsner.

Members will vote on a new slate of officers. They are: Ann Wooldridge of Mill Valley, president; George Hallstrom, vice-president; Kay Weaver, secretary; Rita Engle, treasurer; Lilas Mugg, executive secretary.

Larkspur Permits For Building Up

The Larkspur building department issued 12 permits for building estimated at $332,400 during April, compared to permits for $93,800 in building during March and $555,550 during April, 1966.

The permits included a 12-unit apartment building to be built by John Moran at 20 Lower Via Casitas, an office building to be built by Peter J. Wikel at 275 Magnolia Avenue, and three houses.

Marin Teachers To Conference

A delegation of Marin County teachers and school administrators will go to Monterey on Wednesday to hear about new programs of Projects To Advance Creativity in Education, a federally supported project.

The educators will attend an orientation meeting to prepare for the trip at 7:30 p.m. today at Wolfe Grade School in Kentfield.

Leonard T. Heid, North Bay PACE planning associate, said federal funds will pay for the trip.

Budget On Agenda

The Corte Madera Sanitary District board will review a tentative district budget for fiscal 1968 at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the district office.

How to keep in the swim

...and keep your interests very much afloat

It's pretty obvious we're telling you that the I-J will keep you "up," keep your mind buoyant, keep you in the swim of affairs.

But maybe it's NOT so obvious that your newspaper can do so many things IN ONE ISSUE that no other medium of communication can approach.

Think about it: immediate news of the entire world . . . today's happenings for tonight's reading. We take you to Viet Nam, to Washington . . . to the Giants game wherever they play. To city hall, to the top food specials at your market. To the courts, to auto row; we run off today's stocks for you, show you the latest in fashions, and tell you what's on TV.

But we don't just flash the news; we report it, check on it, give you details that give you full perspective and thorough information. Sports, women's affairs, financial news, the latest in education, politics, science, health, menus, entertainment — the list is never-ending.

Look what it does for you: opens your mind; gives you a sense of belonging to your community; improves your judgment on public affairs. Yes, and through the ads, leads you to exciting buys and welcome savings.

Night after night, more than 40,000 Marin families plunge in to the Independent-Journal — and come up better informed. Great way to stay in the swim!

Guild Offers Belvedere Tour

By BETTY FROST

This year's Belvedere House Tour, the 17th renewal of the popular event sponsored by St. Stephens Guild, is scheduled for 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on May 10. The tour begins and ends at San Francisco Yacht Club by the Belvedere Green. Tea will be served at the club from 2:30 to 4 p.m. Transportation is provided by a fleet of station wagons.

The five residences on display offer a varied tour, ranging from refurbished Victorian to spectacular modern, with a compact apartment included.

The committee organizing the 1967 tour is composed of Mesdames Arthur H. Collbran and Edwin G. Weed, co-chairmen; George Stephens, Clark A. Potter and Carlton Skinner, reservations; James B. Atkins, tea; Ross W. Ashley, brochure; Charles S. Lindsay, posters; John H. Flint, transportation; John Wiley and George K. Whitney, hostesses; Samuel N. Mercer and Frank G. King, publicity; Jack Welisch, displays; and William R. Davis, decoration.

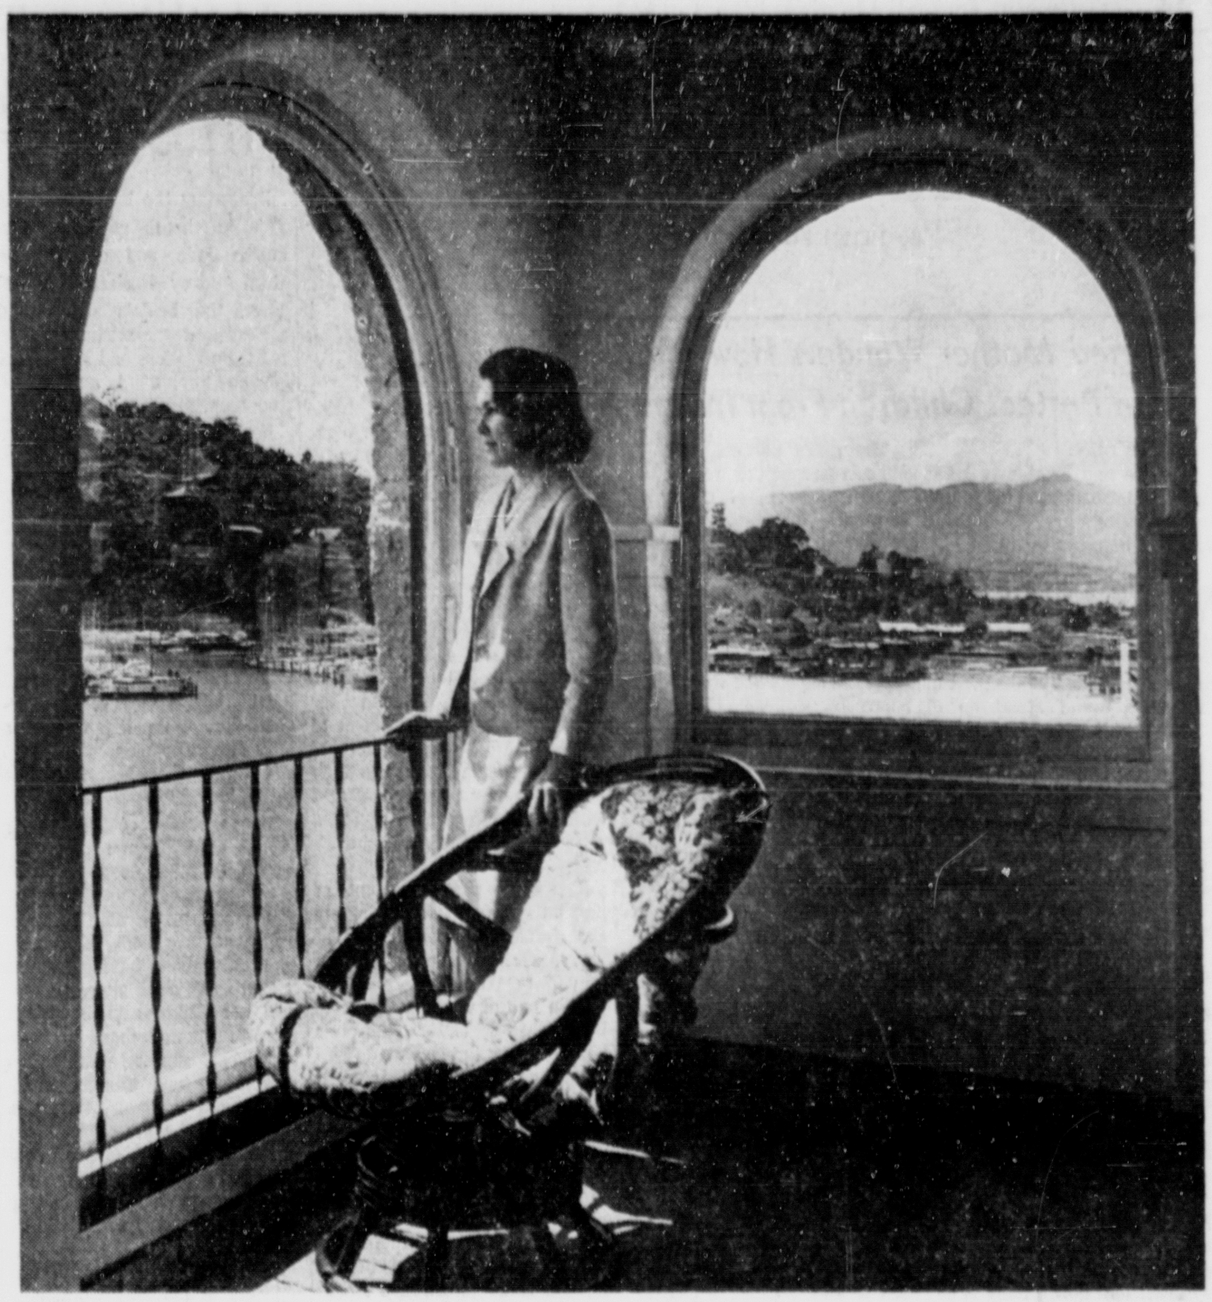
TOUR HOMES are those of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Bekins, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Matzinger, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan La Rue and David Hall.

The Donald Bekins home is one of the five original homes on Corinthian Island. All were built in 1908. This home has been artfully restored outside and so much so, that old-timers say "Yes, that's how it was." Yet some of the changes are spectacular — a new dock and marine railway for the family yacht; a vast playroom-bar and guest suite in what was once the furnace room below the main floor. This home, like its setting, has a Mediterranean flavor. Spanish and Italian antiques blend with American modern and "1935 Gumps."

THE MERRILL MATZINGER home exists on what was considered an "unbuildable" site. Architect George Rockrise has suspended the home around the perimeter of a rock knoll, positioning each wing of the home to afford wind protection and magnificent views all the way from the bay bridge to the Strawberry hills. Towering trees and a shady parking dell give the entrance a secluded air, but the rest of the house is wide open. There are picture windows in every room and glass-walled galleries on both sides of the house. The entrance door, purchased from the Hearst estate, is 16th Century Spanish; it is one of many fine antiques in the house. A collection of paintings, including two by Louis Macouillard, can be seen in the living and dining rooms. In the bedroom wing is a Sacred Heart mosaic, the work of a Benedictine monk at Oregon's Mt. Angel Abbey. This, like the Madonna sculpture by Gladys Bush and the Greek ivory crucifix in the bedroom, reflect the family reverence for religion.

The decorator was Doree Kerr and Lawrence Halprin was landscape architect.

THE LONG RAILING forms a shadowy pattern as Mrs. John Flint and Mrs. Carlton Skinner observe the view from the balcony of the Merrill Matzinger home, which will be on display during the Belvedere House Tour to be sponsored by St. Stephens Guild on May 10.



FRAMED IN THE WINDOW at the Donald Bekins home is Mrs. George K. Whitney. From the deep-set round arch windows in the 60-year-old home on Corinthian Island, views of Mt. Tamalpais and Belvedere Cove can be seen. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

THE WALLACE SCOTT home on the Belvedere Lagoon adapts well to its owners. It has a dock for sailing and swimming, indoor-outdoor space for entertaining and sufficient compactness to free them for their many away-from-home activities. Walled from the street, the large entrance patio with its raised gardens and lovely potted plants makes a perfect spot for lunching or entertaining with shelter from the wind. The waterside patio is wide open to sunshine and the view of water and hills.

The large, high-ceilinged main room of this home with its effective skylighting, belies its smallness. Though modern in design the house takes well to the Oriental and antique furnishings, many of them family pieces or treasures collected in travel.

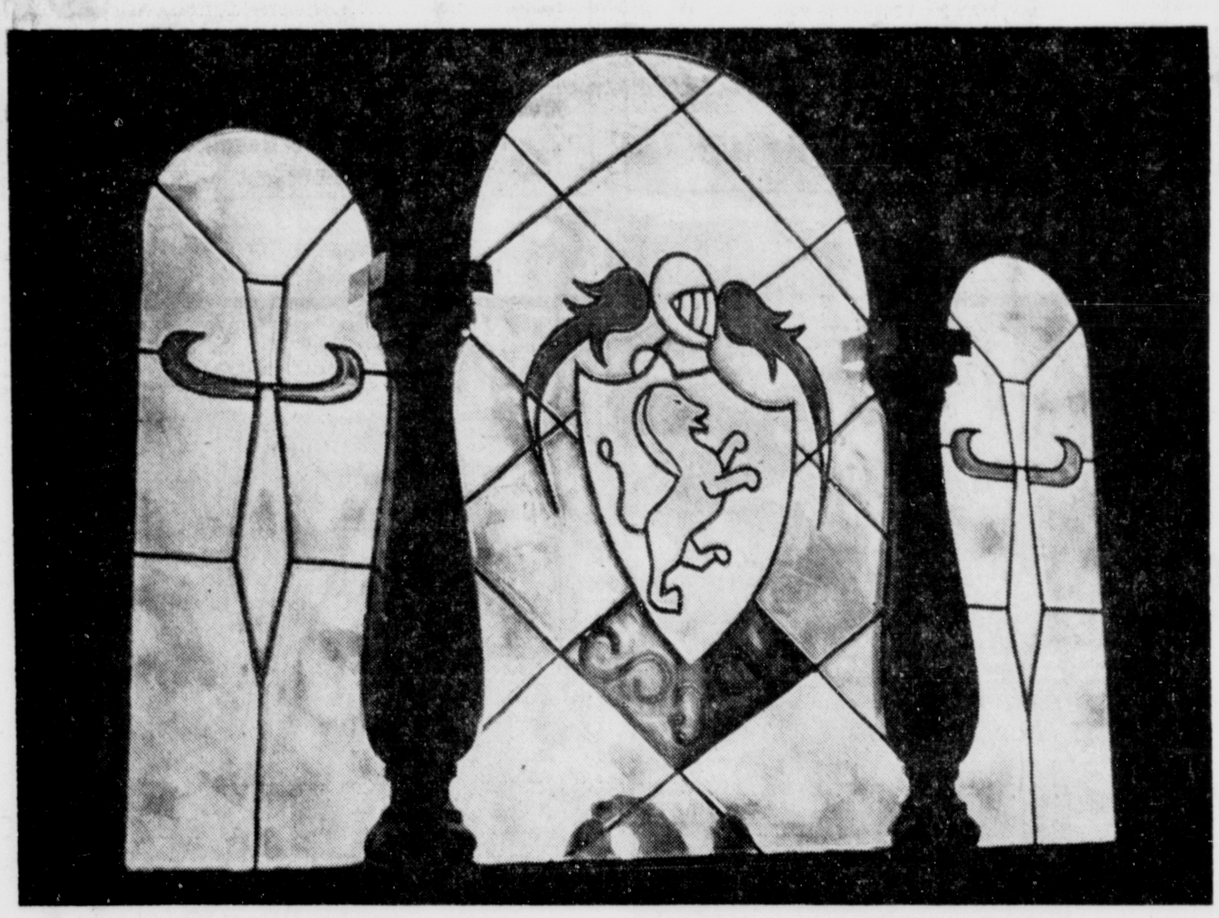
THE MORGAN LA RUE home is one of many rental apartments built in the past decade on Belvedere's man-made lagoon. It is notable for its compactness, its accessibility to shopping areas and its lovely view of water and mountains. Architects were Appleton and Wolford. Clifford Colly was the decorator. A number of antique accents have been used — a Persian marriage mirror tops a victorian chest in the entrance hall and the main room walls display ancient calligraphies framed in obi brocade. The apartment has front and back patios.

DAVID HALL lives in an unusual wood-framed home on Belvedere's west shore. At high tide it extends over Richardson Bay. This home, built on pilings, is the work of architect Allan Steinau. It features extensive skylighting, glass galore and a spacious waterside patio. Japanese influence is evident in the landscaped pool and patio at the main entrance. Owner-decorator David Hall has used Oriental antiques, artifacts and paintings throughout the interior, but each room also has its share of treasures from other parts of the world.

THOUGH THE STREET sign says "Pine and Montgomery," Mrs. Russell Gomez is really on the dock of the Wallace Scott home in Belvedere. The sign, used as a decoration at the founding hall of the San Francisco Symphony Foundation some years ago, was given to Mrs. Scott by her daughter, Mrs. Alan McLenegan of Kentfield.



INTERESTING ARCHITECTURAL detail at the Donald Bekins home, is this heavy oak arch door with its stained glass windows. Exterior of the home was repainted last year to conform to the home's appearance in a photograph taken in 1915. The trim is buff and terra cotta.

ADMIRING A MINIATURE in the spacious bedroom of the Bekins home is Mrs Edwin G. Weed. Mrs. Bekins, a hobby painter, has supervised all decorating in her large older home on Corinthian Island. Massive Italian and Spanish furniture is perfectly suited to the home in its Mediterranean-like setting.

THE PEBBLED PATIO of the Merrill Matzinger house, Mrs. Carlton Skinner and Mrs. John H. Flint enjoy the unbroken view of San Francisco and the Golden Gate Bridge.

Worried Mother Wonders How She Can Protect Children From In-Laws

DEAR HELEN:

Is there any legal way I can keep my husband and his family from getting my children if anything happens to me?

Don't get me wrong. I'm in good health, and we all are on fine terms. We haven't had a falling-out. But I have very good reasons for not wanting my children raised by them. I'm sure they would stand up in court. — W.R

DEAR W:

The only legal way to separate your husband from his children is via a bitter court battle, and I don't see how you could make it stand up, since you say you are on fine terms with him and his family. You might consult a lawyer, but my best advice to you is — "Stay healthy!" — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Is it always best to prevent teen marriages? The have-to kind, I mean? I can't seem to think straight — if we don't give our consent to our under-age son's marriage, will he hate us? If we do, will he hate us later on?

He is 16, going with a lovely, intelligent, mature girl. They didn't want this to happen, but they insist that now a baby is on the way, they want marriage more than anything else in the world. They have been going together over a year, always said this was the real thing, that someday they'd wed.

The girl's parents, who like our son as much as we like their daughter, were, of course, shocked, but they have recovered faster than we have. They say the young couple can live with them, and they will provide money toward their schooling. Our son already has a part-time job. He gets excellent marks in school and we had high hopes for college. His grades have dropped since this trouble arose.

We have read that three-fourths of hurry-up teen marriages fail and the percentage is even greater when young people must live with his or her family. But when both are so sure — what's the best solution, Helen? — WHICH WAY?

DEAR W.W.:

A hurry-up teen marriage isn't always complete disaster, as many happy young couples will tell you. Whether it succeeds or fails depends on maturity, finances, approval by in-laws, and most of all — real caring. I'd say your son's marriage has a much better chance than most — and maybe somehow or other he'll also make it through college. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Your readers are the greatest people alive! I've received so many lovely, thoughtful, heart-touching letters from them. I'd like to answer them all, but, as you know, my writing time is limited, so may I tell them through your column how much they mean to me? I was amazed at how many letters came from young people between the ages of 11 and 17. I wish I could express in words the wonderful bright sunshine my many, many new friends have put into my life. But all I can say is, "Thank you!" —EDITH ELTRINGHAM, 1776 W. Chestnut St., Shamokin, Pa.

DEAR EDITH:

Here's a sample of how your courage affected my readers.

Dear Helen: I took a long, hard look at myself after reading about Edith Eltringham whose days are filled with "doing for" others while she herself slowly turns to stone. I am the product of a broken home, grew up in abject poverty, with little love. I have made the mistake of "looking back" too much. Now I am going to look life straight in the eye. I am starting today to weed out the malice, distrust and fears that have haunted me half a lifetime. I shall consider every day as a precious gift to savor and share with others. Please thank Edith for her inspiration! — NEW VISION

Mother-Daughter Tea Is Planned

Mothers of St. Anselm's Parish, with or without daughters, are invited to a Mother-Daughter Tea, to be held from 1 to 3 p.m. on Saturday in the parish hall.

The event will feature a Maypole Dance and a winning composition or poem on "My Mother." Mrs. Joseph Bauman is tea chairman and Mesdames Roy Olson and Robert Vallee are reservations co-chairmen.

Newlywed William Edrichs Will Reside In San Geronimo

Rita Louise Zappella of San Rafael became the bride of William Charles Edrich of Woodacre in a ceremony on Saturday at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zappella of San Rafael.

Preceding the bride down the aisle in sheath gowns of turquoise lace and crepe were Mrs. Audrey Periera of Petaluma, the bride's sister, and bridesmaids, Darlene Wolter and Gale Wolters and Mesdames Marlene Soldavini and Joyce Anderson.

Raymond Edrich of San Carlos served his brother as best man and ushering were Stanley Soldavini, Robert Taverna, Julius Rodoni and Stanley Rowan.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Star Hall in San Anselmo.

The bride was graduated from San Rafael High School. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Soldavini of San Rafael.

The bridegroom, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William C. Edrich of San Francisco, was graduated from Lincoln High School and is with the Marin Fire Dept. in Woodacre.

Following a Southern California wedding trip, the couple will reside in San Geronimo.

New League Officer Was Math Teacher

Mrs. Edward J. Boessenecker of Mill Valley, new president of the League of Women Voters of Southern Marin, has served on the board as vice president and chairman for program and has headed workshops and committees.

She is a past president of the Lawyers' Wives of Marin and the Mill Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Born in China, Joan Gherardi Boessenecker came with her family — her father was an importer — to New York City when they left because of the political situation in China. When they came to the Bay Area she finished her education at the San Francisco College for Women.

She majored in mathematics and taught this subject before her marriage to Edward Boessenecker, an attorney practicing in San Francisco. A subsequent move to Marin and a busy life of rearing four boys and three girls began for the petite brunette.

In speaking of volunteer groups, Mrs. Bossenecker emphasized, "We need to learn how to get along in an organization and to be able to work well with all kinds of people, especially those having diverse backgrounds and interests."

Of her children she said, "It is all right for them to have music, art and swimming lessons. They help youngsters develop as individuals, but it is not enough. I want my children to be sharers with others in all aspects of living so they will have earned a place in the complicated world which will be theirs."

As new president Mrs. Boessenecker is planning workshops for league members.

"I hope to begin sessions soon which will serve primarily to train discussion leaders, moderators and unit chairmen," she said. "I feel that membership in the non-partisan League of Women Voters is a fine way to satisfy a woman's desire to be part of the political scene through informed discussion groups. All women of voting age are invited to join.'

Other new officers of the Southern Marin unit are Mesdames John Giuliardi, first vice president; Paul Geerlings, second vice president; and Lionel Farber, treasurer. A secertary will be named later.

Golyn-Bravercos Rite Performed

The marriage of Rudi Golyn of San Rafael and Jo Ann Bravercos of Andover, Mass., has been announced. The ceremony took place at Central Synagogue in New York City.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Bravercos of Andover and was graduated from Mitchell College in New London, Conn.

Rudi is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Golyn of San Rafael and the grandson of Mrs. Bertha Mouber of San Francisco. He was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and University of Colorado and studied radio and television at San Jose State College. He is employed as a copywriter with Young and Rubicam Advertising Agency in New York City where the couple are making their home.

Follow The Grain In Dusting Wood

Your furniture should be dusted the right way frequently. Follow the grain of the wood to avoid causing surface scratches. Use a drop or two of a quality furniture polish on your dustcloth to help pick up dust, instead of just pushing it around the surface.

Good Dental Habits Begin At Early Age

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Good dental health habits must be learned in childhood, says Helen Becker, University of Nebraska health education specialist.

The American Medical Association suggests that youngsters have their first dental examination at the age of two and one-half to three years when all primary teeth have erupted. To start children on a lifetime of good dental habits, Miss Becker suggested you make certain your child brushes his teeth properly after meals and snacks.

Second Spy Probe Put Into Orbit

EL SEGUNDO (UPI) — The The second of two Vela nuclear detection satellites was sent into a 61,000 nautical mile orbit today, the Air Force announced.

The 730-pound spacecraft is capable of detecting a nuclear explosion in space at a distance of more than 2,000 miles from earth. Injection into the circular orbit came on command from the Air Force Satellite Control facility at Sunnyvale. The first Vela satellite was injected into orbit at 12:17 a.m. PST (3:17 EST) Saturday, 22 hours after the twins were launched from Cape Kennedy atop a Titan 3C booster.

The Air Force said the second Vela satellite moved from an eliptical orbit measuring 4,600-by-60,000 nautical miles into the circular path around the earth about 49 hours after its twin achieved its 60,000 mile orbit.

The second spacecraft now trails the first by about 154 degrees. This space will be adjusted by ground command later in the flight, the Air Force said. Spacing the two vehicles on opposite sides of the earth will provide the maximum coverage in case of a nuclear explosion.

First Exhibit Dates Announced

Recently organized Tomales Bay Artists Guild will present its first exhibition May 26 to June 18 in Forester's Hall, Point Reyes Station.

Hours will be from noon to 6 p.m. through May 30 and from 1 to 4 p.m. Thuesdays through Fridays thereafter and noon to 6 p.m. on weekends.

Entries must be submitted on May 22 and 23 between 2 and 9 p.m.

Vote Canvass Set By Council

The Corte Madera Town Council will meet tomorrow at 5:30 p.m. to canvass returns of an April 25 election in which residents of a district adjoining Elm Avenue voted to be annexed to Larkspur.

The meeting in the council chamber will be an adjourned meeting at which other city business may also be discussed.

Student Hootenanny To Open Friday Night

Gypsy fire dances, Russian and French lullabies, and music by a jazz combo will be among the hearline attractions of Marin Catholic High School's third annual "hootenanny," planned for Friday and Saturday in the school gymnasium at 8 p.m.

Theme is "Folk Songs from Many Lands" and singers among the company of 60 students taking part will present their songs in more than 10 languages, including Yiddish, Greek and Italian.

Soloists will be Diane Behm, Wendee Poling, Ann Kinsey, Ann Matsinger and Patrick McGurk. Joan Bonfiglio and Dennis Lee. Lou Soileau will accompany choral numbers on a guitar.

Personnel of the jazz combo, The Tiajuana Grass, will be James Giovannoni, trumpet; Pat Blake, piano; Bill Houston, banjo; and Craig Smith, drums.

Rev. Richard Wingell will arrange the musical scores and coach the choral groups, assisted by Sister Rose Genevive. Students helping backstage will include Bruce Dryer, Richard Woodall, David Powers and Edward Schulz.

Low-Income Housing On Council Agenda

A resolution authorizing the County Housing Authority to lease private housing in Mill Valley for low-income and elderly persons will be considered today by the city council at 8 p.m. in city hall.

The resolution, proposed by Mayor Albert E. White, must be approved by the council before the authority can extend its proposed leased housing program to the city.

If the federal housing assistance administration approves the authority will lease up to 300 homes and apartment units throughout the county for up to five years. The units would be rented to low-income and elderly persons who would pay a portion of the rent. The federal government would make up the difference.

Also on the agenda is a request from the chamber of commerce that the city suspend parking meter regulations on Saturdays.

Instructors Named For Rec Program

Everyone with a flair for recreation related activities are being sought by the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department, now planning an ambitious recreation program.

Director Andrew J. Snyder said instructors are needed in the whole range of activities from archery to Yoga.

Beating Victim Is Still Serious

Although showing slight improvement, Samuel J. Smith, 57, of 176 Redwood Drive, Woodacre remained in serious condition today in Marin General Hsopital with injuries suffered in a beating in San Rafael Tuesday.

Police said he suffered head injuries in the attack by an unknown assailant outside the Superior Body and Fender Service, 26 Harbor Street.

Analysis Of Sleep Will Be Discussed

Dr. Louis West, head of the department of behavioral sciences at University of Oklahoma, will give a lecture on the analysis of sleep at 8 p.m. tomorrow at College of Marin's Olney Hall.

The free public lecture by West, former consulting psychiatrist to the Surgeon General of the United States, will be the first E. J. Long Memorial Lecture, named for the first clinical director of Ross Psychiatric Clinic.

San Rafael Exhibit

San Anselmo artist Eve von Neumann has a collection of her works on exhibition until May 15 at Title Insurance and Trust Co., 1200 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael. The company plans shows by Marin County artists every two months.

Policemen Not Without Prejudices

WASHINGTON (AP) — A National Crime Commission task force finds race prejudice is not uncommon among policemen—but comments that a high proportion of the population generally share such bias.

The task force's 239-page report, released Saturday night, urged higher educational standards for recruiting police officers. It also called for better salaries to keep good men once they are found.

The report on police problems is the first of a number of studies being prepared by task forces set to work by the commission. Organized crime, the courts, juvenile delinquency and drugs will be among topics reported on in the future.

The police problems task force said most policemen are devoted to their jobs and do the best they can under trying conditions. But weaknesses that might be relatively unimportant in a private citizen can be extremely serious in a policeman, the task force said.

Recruits must be screened carefully to identify and exlcude those "whose emotional instability makes them clearly unfit for police work," the report said. But "complete exclusion of all persons who are biased" would be an unobtainable objective because of widespread prejudices in society as a whole, it said.

The report cited a study of police practices in several large Northern cities in which "it was found that a large proportion of officers expressed strong racial prejudice to neutral observers."

It recommended that top officials of police departments work actively to combat such attitudes. As an example, it cited a directive of the Chicago Police Department listing racial or ethnic slurs officers were forbidden to use and ordering them "never to talk down to any group or individual."

Another comment on crime and police work came yesterday from Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, who said recently imposed restrictions on questioning of suspects apparently have not hampered law enforcement.

Folksinging Program

Folk singers Josef Marais and Miranda will present a program May 14 at 2:30 p.m. at the Festival Theater, Bolinas Avenue and Kensington Road, San Anselmo. Titled "The World is Singing," the program will continue five consecutive Sundays.

MUSIC REVIEW

Quartet And Soloist Survive Quite Well

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

The Marin Arts Quartet closed its 10th season yesterday afternoon at the outdoor art club in Mill Valley with a very difficult concert. It tested the mettle of each member of the quartet and the vocal resources of the guest artist, soprano Gwen Curatilo.

The cocert was both the high point of this season in mature musicianship for the quartet, composed of violinists Charles Meacham and Cicely Edmunds, violist Elizabeth Bell and cellist Jean Mitchell, and the acme of their increasing technical stature throughout their history.

As for Miss Curatilo, her voice and musicianship are now at their peak, and one is sure to hear very high quality music indeed whenever she appears.

In the concert yesterday another facet of her versatility was revealed in her command of contemporary idioms in the Suite for Voice and Violin by Villa-Lobos and the quartet with Soprano No. 2, Opus 10, by Schoenberg. The major work of the program was the Schoenberg Quartet, said to be the last thing he wrote with a key signature. Only rarely, however, was tonality clearly discernible, for it was obscured by the dissonances in the very complex texture of the string harmonies and complicated rhythms.

It was a test of intonation for everyone, and the last two movements, the starkly sorrowful "Litanei" and rhapsodic Entrueckung," were a good measure of Miss Curatilo's expressive powers. The quartet did a masterly job of handling the difficulties involved.

Miss Curatilo and Meacham were evenly matched in the piquant villa-lobos suite with Portuguese text by Mario De Andrade. Purity and lovely quality of Miss Curatilo's soprano were shown in her legato singing of vowels in the wordless "quero Ser Alegre" and its amazing flexibility in the "Sertaneja" requiring rapid articulation of the syllable "la" and even shouts.

For many of the audience probably the easiest to listen to and enjoy was the opening Quartet No. 1 in D Major by the short-lived young Spanish composer J. C. DeArriaga, who lived from 1806 to 1826. It was completely charming and captivating in all of its five movements. The most unusual one was the menuetto-allegro.

Series Extension

Subscriptions to the Marin Music Chest summer concert series, which opens June 11 in Forest Meadows, San Rafael with a joint recital by pianist Grant Johannesen and cellist Zara Nelsova, will be available through May 15, a twelve-day extension over the original closing date of the drive.

Post Office Asks Garage Bids

The Post Office Department today announced a call for bids on building a garage on Sims Street adjacent to the San Rafael Post Office, for maintenance of postal vehicles.

San Rafael Postmaster Hugh Cassidy said all major repairs are now being done in San Francisco, with minor repairs handled by Duffy Brothers of San Rafael. The proposed garage would do both minor and major repair work.

The garage would be owned by the bidder and leased for 20 years by the Post Office. The Post Office hopes to have it open by autumn.

Bidding documents are available from Warren K. Branscum, 631 Howard Street, Room 438, San Francisco. Bids will be received until 2 p.m., June 2.

10 Exhibits This Month

Special to the I-J

SAN FRANCISCO — Major San Francisco museums will present 10 new exhibitions this month, according to schedules just released.

The Museum of Art in the Civic Center tops the list with five openings, two of them tomorrow, both ending May 21. They are "Aktual Art International," featuring material typical of art experimentation in Europe today and "Sculpture from the Permanent Collection."

Other Museum of Art offerings will be "The Impact of Cubism of American Art", May 19 - June 25; "Print Portfolio from the Permanent Collection," May 23-June 18; and "Photographs by Leroy Robbins," a 50-print photographic essay about Mexico, May 31-July 9.

The King of Sweden's private collection of Chinese art is heading this month's offering of the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum in Golden Gate Park. The collection includes 150 objects from King Gustav's 2400-object collection which is housed in his royal palace in Stockholm. The collection spans 4,000 years of Chinese history.

Condition Serious

Mrs. Floyd Payne of 7530 Redwood Highway, Novato, was reported in serious condition but improving today at Novato Hospital, where she was under treatment for a heart attack suffered Thursday.

Solutions Sought To Hub's Ills

By DAVID DIETZ

San Anselmo residents, told that many of the city's ill have not been cured, came up Saturday with a set of specific ideas on how to solve them.

The occasion was the second annual town meeting at Sir Francis Drake High School, where 300 persons gathered to appraise the city's progress since the session in March, 1966.

Recommendations for improvement came from panel discussions on five areas of community life selected for appraisal in a questionnaire circulated to residents las month.

The group on traffic and streets suggested that the city council retain a specialist to study traffic needs, that a citizens committee be named to study Highway 17 construction, and that scattered patching of city streets be abandoned in favor of a general improvement program.

Recommended by the panel on city government and taxes were: Appointment of a fulltime city administrator, with the city council becoming a policy-making body; council investigation of consolidation of fire services with other districts, and public vote on whether councilmen should receive $50 per month salary.

As to the downtown area, proposals were: That the Chamber of Commerce choose a committee of merchants to encourage businessmen to update window displays and develop better relationship with customers and pride in their businesses, that property owners form a committee to work toward a clean-up of stores, that construction of a mall be investigated by city officials, and that a chamber of commerce committee be selected to attract more merchants and professional people into the downtown area.

The panel on parks and recreation urged: Retention of the entire Sorich Ranch by the city as a memorial park, to be opened immediately for use by residents; a town meeting for youth, and a bond issue to finance more playgrounds, a recreation center, swimming pool, and to complete Sorich Ranch as a memorial park.

Suggested by the group on schools were: Improved communications between school officials and the public through a series of meetings; prompt decision by Tamalpais High School District on a new high school for the area, and a committee to inform the San Anselmo district board about federal and state funds available for educational programs.

Before panel discussions were convened, residents assembled in the high school's Little Theater to hear William Siden, a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. executive, evaluate progress made by the city since he made a similar presentation of slides at last year's town meeting.

He lauded improvement in traffic control, development of the Red Hill Shopping Center, installation of new tennis courts, and several instances of vacant lot clean-up, but criticized persistent parking problems, vacant and decaying stores, traffic congestion at the Hub, and lack of a balanced recreation program.

Siden, a co-founder of the San Francisco Beautiful group, also noted "bitterness, rivalry and public concern" developing over a split in the city's business community, with the Red Hill center attracting customers from the downtown area.

He called the Sorich Ranch "perhaps the greatest single asset" of San Anselmo and expressed concern over plans to subdivide some of the property.

Urging downtown beautification, Siden said planners should use Corte Madera creek as a focal point for development.

Residents attending the town meeting, sponsored by the San Anselmo Congress for Community Progress with the Chamber of Commerce and San Anselmo Homes Association, showed the biggest interest in the panel discussion on downtown problems.

Participants were divided over whether development of a mall or retention of the "village character" of the area was best.

Said Abe Froman, a panelist and a director of the Chamber of Commerce: "Let's have a face-lifting. Let's paint-up, clean-up and let's put a smile on our faces for customers."

Besides appearances, other symptoms of the economic slump downtown were identified as absentee landlords, lack of parking, and a lack of better grade merchandise.

A suggestion to improve access to San Anselmo Avenue from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and link the Red Hill center to the downtown area was applauded.

Robbers Of Sausalito Liquor Store Escape In Hail Of Bullets

wire and taped his mouth.

A second man, carrying a gun in his waist band, remained near the cash register. A third stood just inside the door, Guy said.

While the first man was still in the back room, customers started entering the store, Guy said. Four or five customers came and went before the man at the door saw a couple whispering and became suspicious, Guy said.

From then on, the two men allowed no one to leave the store. There were more than a dozen customers inside by the time the robbers left, he said.

Guy said he tried to signal two early customers that something was wrong by squeezing their hands tightly as he gave them change, but it didn't work.

The man who tied Keever also took $15 from his wallet, then rolled him over and took the change from his pocket, but the other two men took nothing from the customers, Guy said.

One of the trio scooped the money from the cash register. Then the three left the store and got into a car which was parked across the street.

As they were leaving, one said, "Don't anybody stick your head out this door for at least five minutes or I will put a bullet in it and I never miss," Guy recalled.

"They were tough, and the one guy by the register was very nervous, like he was hopped up," he said.

Said Keever: "It was like something you see on television. You can't believe it's happening to you."

Guy said that when the men left, a woman in the car across the street called to them and they headed for the car.

About a minute after getting a call about the robbery and a description of the getaway car, 23-year-old Patrolman Robert Glynn saw it moving north on Caledonia Street at Johnson Street, without lights.

Glynn stopped the car at Pine and Bonita streets and a blonde woman, about 35, got out of the car, he reported.

He asked for her driver's license and she turned back toward the car, he said. Then he said he saw two men, about 25, one lying in the front seat, the other lying in the back seat.

Glynn said both appeared to be armed with revolvers.

Glynn ducked behind his patrol car and returned the fire, with the two men shooting through an open rear window of the convertible and Glynn from behind his police car. One bullet drilled a hole in the police car.

Glynn fired six shots. The gunmen fired "several," he said. Then they drove north on Bonita Street, and escaped.

Sausalito police found the car abandoned in a driveway at 73 Marie Street at 6:10 a.m. yesterday. On the front seat were a .38 caliber revolver, three expended shells from a 12-gauge shotgun and one loaded shell. The getaway car had been hit by four bullets. Police were checking on the car registration today.

A resident found a white purse beside Bonita Street between Pine and Turney streets which contained two revolvers and "a large amount of currency and change" believed to be from the robbery, police said.

One of the robbers was described as 28 to 30 years old, heavy build, with dirty brown hair, about 5 feet 8 inches tall; the second, in late 20s, thin with brown eyes, about 5 feet 8 or 9, and the third, in his middle 20s, blond hair, light complexion.

Trustees To Fill Vacancy On Board

The Novato Unified School District board will accept a resignation and fill a vacancy on the board at its meeting at 8 p.m. today at the administration building.

William Vandergriff, who announced that he would not seek reelection to the board in last month's elections because he is moving from the area, has turned in his resignation. The board is expected to appoint Irving D. Chapman Jr., successful candidate to the board, to fill the balance of Vandergriff's term until July 1.

The board will discuss purchase of sites for an elementary school, junior high school and an administration building. It will also discuss names for the new elementary school and high school in San Marin and the junior high school at Wilson Avenue and Vineyard Road.

Other items to come before the board include participation in a county wide narcotics educational program, the student teacher agreement with Sonoma State College and substitute teachers' salaries.

Boy Found Locked In Car

Deputy Victor L. Carrara heard and saw the boy in the car on Marin Street shortly before 8:30 p.m.

Finding no sign of the driver, he went to work on the car door with a screwdriver, opened it, rescued the boy, and took him to juvenile hall to be placed in temporary foster care.

The car was registered to Charles A. Wells of Mesa Road, Bolinas. Wells appared at the Tiburon sheriff's sub-station at 12:30 a.m. yesterday with Marjory Diane Bees of Berkeley, and was promptly cited for leaving the child locked in the car.

Marin Shakespeare Winners Announced

Jama Tegeler of 189 Bayview Drive, San Rafael, took first place in the Marin Shakespeare contest last week in the girls' division, and Christophen Werlin of 349 Richardson Way, Tamalpais Valley, won first place in the boys' division.

Jama is a pupil at San Rafael High School and Chris goes to Tamalpais High School, where the contest was held.

Planners Study Low Density Proposal For Muir Beach

Marin County Planning Commissioners today saw a proposal to lower the residential density on undeveloped lands at Muir Beach and spent considerable time on means of preserving the beach itself and location of a small shopping center.

The rezoning study, prepared by the county planning staff after meetings with Muir Beach residents and property owners, was discussed for an hour and a half, then continued until July 10 for further discussion.

Werner Von Gundell of the county planning staff told the commission that the majority of residents are against apartments and any other kind of rental housing, want the 19-acre flat land and beach preserved, and are not strongly in favor of any large commercial development.

He said the beach could either be acquired by public purchase or put into resort-commercial recreation zone. However, he said some apartments or rental and some commercial use might be needed for the owners to support a commercial beach operation.

Robert Greensfelder, one of 10 owners of the beach property agreed, saying neither he nor his associates could afford to run a public park. He said the owners have been urging state purchase of the property for three years, but the chance of that appears slim.

County Park and Recreation Dir. Pierre W. Joske said the Muir Beach property is far down the state's priority list in the project to enlarge Tamalpais State Park. He also said county purchase would be unlikely.

Leslie Smith, speaking for resident property owners, presented a petition signed by 18 persons, asking for expansion of the study area to include much of the watershed behind Muir Beach. The petition also asked preservation of the beach area and strongly opposed apartments.

Present zoning includes a small commercial area near the beach, some apartment zoning, and single family lots as small as 5,800 square feet. The planning department suggested single family lots of 10,000 and 20,000 square foot minimum.

Dunya Chernenko, seeking a change from single-family to apartment zoning on her lot on Pacific way in Muir Beach, agreed to a continuance until July 24 on her request. It was her application which sparked the zoning study.

Hangar For Teen-Age Dances? No, For Now

Although apparently sympathetic with the idea of turning an old seaplane hangar near Sausalito into a teen-age concert and dance hall, Marin County planning commissioners today gave the project the slow tempo treatment until they have more information.

Promoter Don McCoy had applied for a permit to remodel the building at 240 Bolinas Street, Richardson Bay, into a hall which would accomodate about 600 young people for concerts of various kinds — including rock 'n' roll dances.

By a unanimous voice vote, the commissioners agreed to continue it until McCoy presents more specific plans regarding parking. No date for further discussion was fixed.

About half a dozen letters were presented from parents and teachers supporting the move.

Only one — from Sausalito Police Chief Edward S. Kreins — poured tepid water on the idea. He said it might provide a police problem for Sausalito, although the building is not within city limits.

"It is my understanding that this building will be used for teen-age dances, to attract long hair music," wrote the chief. "I doubt if this long hair referred to is necessarily Beethoven or Bach."

Body Found In Hotel In San Rafael

The body of Dean De La Montanya Sr., 60, was found today in a San Rafael hotel room, a note and a half-empty bottle of strychnine sulphate nearby.

The note, according to Asst. Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine, said De La Montanya was despondent over ill health and over the death of his son, Dean De La Montanya Jr., in an auto accident March 12.

De La Montanya Jr., of San Geronimo, died when his pickup truck plunged off a back road in heavy rain. He and his wife, who survived with minor injuries, were on their way to Sebastopol to visit his father.

Owners of the Marin Hotel, 1111 Fourth Street, found De La Montanya's body at 9 a.m. today. He had checked into the hotel at 7 p.m. yesterday.

Innocent Plea To Smuggling

Innocent plea to charges of smuggling weapons and drugs into San Quentin Prison was entered in Marin Superior Court today by an ex-guard, Gerald R. Walter, 24.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales then moved to consolidate the case for trial with that of Donald Kinman, prison inmate charged with having the contraband in his possession.

Kinman, serving two life sentences for murder, will enter his plea May 15, so Judge Joseph G. Wilson scheduled hearing on Bales's motion for May 22.

Walter, now of San Francisco, is accused of smuggling a .38-caliber revolver, 67 rounds of ammunition, a hunting knife, and 45 Wyomine inhaler tubes into prison prior to March 9.

Drath To Speak

San Rafael pacifist Phillip Drath will speak to San Rafael High School students Thursday at 3 p.m. on his recent trip to North Vietnam with medical supplies for civilians.

Firemen Give First Aid

Sausalito firemen yesterday gave first aid to a man who wandered into the fire department from the street and was unable to say why he was there.

The man, later identified as Emerick Carl Wolf, 63, of San Francisco, was taken to Marin General Hospital by United Ambulance.

His condition today was listed as fair as doctors checked out the possibility he might have suffered a stroke. He reportedly left his car in a nearby gas station and walked into the fire department.

Tam Unification Will Be Sought

The San Anselmo School District Board will consider asking the county committee on school district organization to call an immediate Tamalpais High School District unification election tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at Hidden Valley School.

Supt. Stephen L. Parodi said the district could lose more than $30,000 if the election is not called within the legal time limit.

The board will hear a report on the curriculum for seventh and eighth grade students at Hidden Valley School.

Some Racial Imbalance In Schools Inevitable

All of us recognize that racial balance is desirable in public schools, and that forced segregation imposed by law is illegal.

It is in the area of de facto racial segregation, where the racial makeup of a school attendance area brings a preponderance of one race into a particular school, that is causing current concern.

The State Board of Education keeps reminding local boards of education that they should take affirmative steps to prevent de facto racial segregation.

State policies assert that school districts have a legal obligation to take reasonable affirmative steps to prevent segregation and to consider ethnic composition of a school in determining its attendance boundaries.

Certainly, if a few changes in school attendance boundaries can bring about racial balance in a school, then that would be the reasonable thing to do.

But some advocates of racial balance apparently want to create an artificially "balanced" school in an area where racial makeup of the area makes such "balance" almost a physical impossibility.

For example, in a school district where only one child of a minority race attends the school because there is only one minority family in the district, we see no need to "balance" that school by going to the expense and inconvenience of bringing in other minority children from outside the district.

In another area where minority races make up the bulk of the residents, the public school will naturally have a preponderance of minority school children. If some reasonable method can be devised simply and economically to disperse some of these minority children to neighboring schools to bring "racial balance," that would be fine.

But we see no reasonable need to bus children for miles, criss-crossing attendance areas in an effort to achieve mathematical balance.

As long as restrictive, all-white neighborhoods or minority ghettos remain, there is bound to be racial imbalance in public schools.

It would make more sense to strive, as the nation has been striving, to extend equal opportunities in housing and employment to all races and thus disperse ghettos rather than to allow ghettos to remain while attempting to disperse the school population by artificial means.

A more important consideration is to make sure that the quality of teachers and facilities are comparable, regardless of whether the school population is racially "balanced" or "imbalanced."

Like Miniature Roses

Marin's hawthorn trees usually bloom the last week in April. In England, they are called Maythorn but the season there is several weeks behind ours. With few exceptions, every year when the hawthorns have reached their prime, and blossoming beautifully, a minor heat wave hits Marin and the flower clusters quickly turn brown.

Hawthorns are a sort of double-feature tree. In the spring, they provide clusters of pink, white or red flowers, like miniature roses, delicate, lovely. In autumn and early winter, they are laden with red berries, which are attractive in themselves, and which draw many interesting birds to our gardens.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Assembly May Bottle Up Bill To Open Up Welfare Records

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Another move in the continuing fight to keep public records open to the public was made in the State Senate when Lieutenant-Governor Robert Finch broke a tie vote, casting an "aye" for a bill which would open records of welfare payments to the public.

It was the first time since the mid-50's that a tie vote occurred in the Senate, and although the constitution provides for the lieutenant-governor as presiding officer to vote in the case of a tie, it is not often he has opportunity to exercise this prerogative.

In the Assembly, with 80 members, there is no provision for breaking a tie. In the event of an unbreakable 40-40 vote in the lower house, the measure is lost, as 41 votes are needed to pass a bill. This results from the fact the presiding officer of the Assembly is an elected member of that body, while the lieutenant-governor is not a senator, but specified in the constitution as its presiding officer with the authority to vote only when a 20-20 vote occurs.

THE UNUSUAL situation was not as important as the issue at stake. The bill upon which the vote was cast was by Sen. John Schmitz, R-Tustin. The question was one of very definite clarity—should the public be allowed to inspect welfare records, or should they continue to be a secret only available to bureaucracy?

Outside of two Democrats, Senators Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, and Lawrence Walsh, D-Los Angeles, all the Democrats voted against allowing the public the right to know. One Republican, Lewis Sherman, R-Oakland, joined with the Democrats in denying the public the right to obtain information concerning a program the public finances through tax money.

THERE WAS NO equivocation as far as Finch's vote was concerned. It was a forthright declaration on the right of the public to know.

"I voted yes," he said, "because I believe these are public records and should be available to officials. Thirty-one others states have similar laws."

Whether the measure gets through the Assembly or not is a good question at the present time. The lower house has a larger Democratic majority than the Senate, and if the Democrats gang up to deny information to the public in that house, the fate of the Schmitz bill is sealed. It will die an ignominious death and another constructive move toward freedom of information will have been defeated.

THE OBSESSION the Democrats have for "protecting" the welfare recipient from the public eye is a direct affront to the taxpaying public, which has been financing welfare programs for many years without access to knowledge as to who benefits from the program, and how the welfare funds are being spent.

As a result of this lack of knowledge, there is the opportunity for abuses to run rampant, and under an ultraliberal administration, there is no question that they do.

Under the Schmitz bill, people legitimately being taken care of with welfare funds need have no fear of recriminations. But those who use public monies for a living when they could be producing members of society at least would be exposed to the public view.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Legislation to create a four-county rapid transit district, including Marin, passed the Senate unanimously.

Bernard Hoffman, believed to be the nation's senior school board member, announced that he would retire from the Dixie School District Board after 50 years of service.

20 YEARS AGO

A new school was opened in San Anselmo to serve primary grade pupils in the Morningside Court, Butterfield Road and Hawthorne Hills area.

The summer Saturday night dancing season opened with record crowds at the Larkspur Rose Bowl, the Redwood Bowl, and the Marin Town and Country Club.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A FINE SEMI-PRO baseball team was so plagued by a series of injuries that a set of key games had to be played with a second-string shortstop patrolling left field. In seven innings of the deciding contest, this hapless converted infielder dropped three flies, let two grounders skip through his legs, and fired four throw-ins over the third baseman's head and into the visitors' bench.

Outraged, the manager chased the culprit at this point, and took over the left field sector himself, where, quicker than you could say Willie Davis, he committed four grievous and damaging errors himself. When the inning finally was over, he charged into the dugout, threw his glove at his substitute shortstop, and snarled, "You got left field so loused up, you bum, that even I couldn't play it!"

ONE OF THE most famous writers of books for children reluctantly consented to appear for an autographing party at a big department store at the height of the holiday rush, and was promptly beseiged by an army of fans — aged five to eight. One eager little girl climbed boldly onto his lap and asked, "Did you really write all those books yourself?" Assured that he had, she then demanded, "How did you get the lines so straight?"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

IOOF Grateful For Firefighters

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The members of our Lodge wish to express their thanks and appreciation to the members of the San Rafael Fire Department who took part in the subduing a fire at our Temple on the morning of April 21. Their response to the alarm and the efficiency with which they performed their work was very commendable.

We also wish to say that, contrary to the general belief, they did not wantonly destroy property in the performance of their work, but completed their work very efficiently in preventing what could have been to us, a very disastrous fire.

Vocal Minority Threat To Crime

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Please do not allow a vocal minority to silence the pen of Mr. Theron Newell.

Should your fear cause its death, a far greater crime will have been committed than that in San Quentin last week.

Need one elaborate on freedom of the press, the free exchange of ideas, and man's quest to rise above himself?

Ryskind Column Needs A Response

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. Ryskind's article on Apr. 25 was filled with untruths and one must respond to a few.

Regarding atrocities — only one doctor says it is a lie, yet how many attested to the truth. I have heard speakers who have been to the hospitals and in the countryside and have seen. Articles have appeared in Ladies Home Journal, Redbook, Saturday Review, Look, and Ramparts, to name those I've seen, with pictures and stories about how napalm and fragmentation bombs are used on civilians. They are either burned to death, suffocate, or suffer horrible disfigurement when their skin literally melts off. Mr. Ryskind, I have seen pictures — they do not lie!

About the defections from the Viet Cong — only two weeks ago the Pentagon stated that Viet Cong strength has increased — according to U.S. figures they are stronger than ever before.

Mr. R. rebukes those who claim the popularity of Ho, a Vietnamese nationalist; yet, former President Eisenhower stated in his book that if we had allowed elections in 1956, 80 per cent of the people would have voted for Ho Chi Minh. More recently, Dean Rusk stated that if free elections were held now, the majority would vote communist. We violated the Geneva Agreements by going into Vietnam, by preventing elections which would have reunified the provisionally split country, and we continue to frustrate the will of the majority.

The reason that nearly a million people migrated from the North to the South was that they were dependents of the colonial native army and/or Catholics who were a by-product of French colonial rule.

As a marcher (not unshod) I do not hold to either alternative: "My country right or wrong" or "My country always wrong." In my opinion regarding the war in Vietnam, my country is wrong, dead wrong!

County Preferred To Tiburon City

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Enclosed is the clipping from your newspaper regarding the PROPOSED Tiburon annexation — YOUR City of Tiburon correspondent is NOT fair — she did not check with the people who are opposed to any annexation. We had many letters addressed to the City Council — and you did not report this in your newspaper. You should be fair on this issue.

There are many of us county residents — who enjoy the County Gov't and prefer NOT to have the City of Tiburon "ruling" us. We had the county draw a line when the people voted for a city — isn't that enough? The so-called City of Tiburon gov't is inefficient and bureaucratic — we prefer the County Gov't — or some day a County Gov't for all of Marin.

Motorist Who Helped Thanked

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On April 24, your paper covered a gasoline explosion story. At that time, you didn't know who the unidentified motorist was who came to the aid of our son.

Our family would like to publicly thank Bruce Lehman of Cobblestone Drive, in Marinwood, who happened to be in the vicinity of the fire, saw the smoke, and rushed to the scene to try to be of some help. Upon arriving at the fire, he saw that our boy was badly burned, put him in his car and rushed him to the hospital and stayed with our son in the emergency until the family arrived.

As adults we are too quick to criticize teenagers, and too slow to praise them. Bruce Lehman is a teenager, and like many of our teenagers, if given a chance to use their own initiative, do the right thing at the right time.

It goes without saying that our heartfelt thanks and gratitude go out to this boy.

Drath Is Called REAL American

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Perhaps those who have been slinging abuse, insults and slander at Philip Drath are secretly — or subconsciously — frustrated because they too cannot show themselves to be personally brave. And how enslaved are they by the national paranoia that the 'commies' are going to devour us — as well as being victimized by the current cliches of our Viet Nam involvement!

Perhaps Mr. Drath is serving as the object of castigation because in truth these people — these stay-at-home philosophers of international intrigue — need an object upon which to vent their armchair aggression.

Apparently all they are brave enough for is to hurl insults at a REAL American — who has shown himself by his deeds to have the courage to rise above war-propagandized criticism, and the utterly demoralized, dehumanized rationales which presently are engulfing this unfortunate country.

Emotional Fallout From Backlog Of Executions May Hurt Reagan

SACRAMENTO — Wherever the controversy is, there's Governor Ronald Reagan in the middle of it.

Even before the political heat from the firing of Clark Kerr, the university tuition debate, and the cutback of staff in state mental institutions has receded very much, the Governor is on the brink of another explosive controversy which could make the first three look like chimney smoke.

The full impact of what is in the making has not yet come into public focus, but here is the Governor's painful dilemma.

BECAUSE OF DELAYS, appeals, reprieves, and state and Federal court decisions calling previous trials into doubt, today 61 convicted criminals are in Death Row at San Quentin awaiting disposition.

Some of them will likely get new trials through judicial review. But at best Reagan, a "reluctant" advocate of capital punishment as a deterrent, is faced with the prospect of sending an inordinately large number of men to the gas chamber in a relatively brief period.

It is not the Governor's fault that past actions — and inactions —have thrust so many death-penalty decisions into his hands, but it could be that as many as one execution a week for as long as a year will be forthcoming.

The prospect is horrifying to those on Reagan's staff who have special concern with his public image. They see repeated headlines: "Clemency Denied; Another Goes to Gas Chamber," and shudder with anxiety that Ronald Reagan might become known as The Executioner.

ALL OF THIS COMES about at a time when the national trend is against capital punishment, when California's gas chamber was unused throughout the second four-year term of Governor Pat Brown, who was an ardent opponent of the death penalty, and when some members of the California Assembly are urging a moratorium on all executions until the issue can be decided by a voter referendum.

I found Reagan nowhere near as worried over the consequence of his having to make this high number of death-sentence decisions as some of his aides. One thing is clear. He is not going to look for some easy way out. He believes in capital punishment and intends to act upon his belief.

California has just had its first execution in four years. Reagan refused clemency in the first case he decided and in the second he granted a stay to give further study to a legal point which few believe will in the end prevent execution.

These actions are a clue to the shape of things to come. "Unless there are plainly new and extenuating circumstances, no governor," says Reagan, "should place himself above the judge and jury."

He doesn't intend to do so, and this means that unless the call for clemency is strong, Reagan will let the law and jury decision take their course and the death penalty its toll because he believes they are right.

This is another example showing that, however much one may disagree with him, Reagan thinks for himself and is capable of standing by his own decisions whatever the political pressures.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Sen. Percy Gaining In Nominee Moves

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Bipartisan House leaders have initiated a move to uncover who was behind the recent big anti-war demonstrations in New York and San Francisco.

They have been told that Communist elements were in the forefront in planning and organizing these affairs. Also that partisans of Adam Clayton Powell were active as part of his maneuvers to regain his House seat.

Behind the scenes the bipartisan leaders also are strongly pressing Rep. Emanuel Celler, D.-N.Y., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, to hold hearings on legislation prohibiting the burning or destroying of the American flag.

Until this influential demand was made on him, Celler was balking at considering such legislation. More than 50 legislators have introduced bills of this kind. Celler had declined to proceed on the ground that the Justice Department had taken no stand on the matter and he did not know the administration's position.

A SUPPORTER OF Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., is making headway in his backstage campaign to encourage Republican governors to organize into a decisive force for selecting the next GOP presidential nominee.

Friends of Gov. Thomas McCall of Oregon report that his phone and letter campaign has resulted in obtaining private pledges from 12 Republican governors to stay uncommitted until they can all meet next year.

The pledges reportedly came after McCall had personally contacted 20 of the 26 governors.

While Washington friends of Governor McCall deny his organizing of the governors is a move to stop either Michigan Governor Romney or former Vice President Nixon, they admit this could be one of the results.

As to his own private candidate, Governor McCall has told Republican senators that if the convention were held today, he would support Percy, but stressed that "this is not a commitment."

Governor McCall is now trying to set up a mutually agreed-on date for the 12 governors to meet sometime this summer. Also, he is keeping in contact with the governors to encourage them to accept his plan to remain uncommitted.

WILLIAM MANCHESTER, prima donna-ish author of the controversial book on the assassination of President Kennedy, is dropping hints he may run for office. There is no indication what he has in mind, but apparently his thoughts are turning to politics . . . Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss told the conference of city and county GOP chairmen, "We are virtually certain to win 13 of the 22 Democratic senatorial seats up for election next year." Bliss backed up this claim by listing the Democrats he expects to be defeated . . . Hope springs eternal — seemingly—for the Harold Stassen, one-time "boy governor" of Minnesota and frequent candidate for president, who is again giving indications of making still another try in 1968. Now a Philadelphia lawyer, Stassen is sending a memorandum to scores of GOP and other leaders throughout the country urging them to join him in "developing public opinion and party and governmental action towards modernizing and strengthening the United Nations in attaining a sound peace with freedom and justice." This has all the earmarks of a campaign platform.

THOSE TWO HIGH-RANKING Soviet secret police (KGB) officials who recently left the U.S. after a mystery-cloaked visit made a number of telephone calls regarding Svetlana Alliluyeva, Stalin's daughter, before they departed. They talked to leaders of the U.S. Communist Party and to diplomats of several Iron Curtain countries. During the KGB agents' stay in Washington, they resided at a motel and made seven visits to the Soviet embassy. On one occasion they walked by the White House and looked it over at some length. On another occasion one of the agents took a cab and rode around the Pentagon. The cab driver's efforts to engage this agent in a chat were unavailing. . . . It is now virtually certain that veterans' educational benefits will be enlarged.

Sounds From Their Better Halves That Make Husbands Feel Bleak

"Remember Gerald, the fellow who wanted me to elope with him in college? I just heard he's been elected board chairman of the biggest bank in my home town."

"How is it that you can remember the score of every golf game you ever played, but can never remember my birthday?"

"YOU HAVEN'T been listening a thing I said, have you? You have? All right, tell me — what did I say?"

"All I can say is that if we can't afford a cleaning woman every once in a while, you're the one who is going to have to start waxing the kitchen floor and mopping the bathroom."

"Maybe if you'd just let me tint the gray in your hair it might help you get ahead at the office faster. I hear that most bosses now want their employees to look as young as possible."

"Don't bother to take off your shoes. Have you forgotten we're going to the PTA meeting? They have a real interesting speaker I'm dying to hear. He's going to talk on, "Child Education Among the Early Aztecs, and Its Implication in a Permissive Society."

"IF I CAN GET by on a tuna fish salad sandwich for lunch, why do you have to have two martinis, beef stew and an expensive dessert?"

"Remember Ronald, the boy I told you about who used to carry my books home from high school? Well, I just heard he's been made the executive vice president of a big advertising firm."

"Agnes and Jack Jones are celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary next week. He's surprising her with a trip to Bermuda. Where are you planning to take me on our 25th anniversary—to the movies?"

"Don't you have any backbone at all? Tell him that if he won't pay you any more, you'll simply have to take another job. That big bully may scare you, but he doesn't frighten me one whit."

"ALL WE HAVE FOR dinner tonight is leftovers. If you don't want them, you can take me out to a restaurant. It shouldn't kill you to do that, should it?"

"I was dusting off the bookshelf this afternoon, and came across our wedding album. You know, Jim, you really weren't half-bad looking — then."

"Before you start telling me your troubles, let me tell you mine—the cat's had kittens again."

"Remember Charlie, the little boy who was so wild about me in kindergarten? I just heard he's running for governor next year. I wonder what it would feel like to be the first lady in a state mansion?"

Public Hearing On Sewer System Proposal Is Set

A public hearing will be held May 27 on a $3.7 million sewer system project proposed by Bolinas and Bolinas Beach Public Utility districts and Stinson Beach County Water District.

It is scheduled for 10 a.m. in the Stinson Beach Community Center.

The report into sewerage needs in the Bolinas watershed calls for construction of the system in three phases over a 30-year period.

The hearing will discuss ways and means of raising money for the system over a 50-year period — the minimum life of the project, said Hugh Dougherty Stinson Beach director.

News About Powell May Shatter Prejudices Of Everyone In U.S.

WASHINGTON—Mrs. Adam Clayton Powell, wife of the frequently elected congressman, has just written in the Ladies Home Journal that her husband told her he was not a Negro. This news has shattered the prejudices of everyone in this country, both white and black, and no one knows if we'll be able to recover from it.

As soon as I read about it, I went up to the Capitol to speak to members of Congress to see if they might change their position on Powell now that they know he is white.

The first congressman I spoke to said, "It doesn't change my position at all. If there's anything I hate it's an uppity white man."

Another congressman said: "We did not kick Powell out of Congress because of his color. Why, some of my best friends are white folk. I used to play with white children when I was a boy. I grew up with white people, white people work for me, and even today I cherish my white friendships. But Adam Clayton Powell is a disgrace to the white race and he's set the Caucasian cause back in this country by 100 years."

A THIRD CONGRESSMAN was shocked by the news. "This puts a whole different shade on the issue," he said. "We may now have to look at this in a new light."

"Does that mean you might vote to seat him?"

"Well, he really didn't do anything wrong, did he? I mean, he might not have kept accurate books, and he could have been loose with his expenses. But many of us would have done the same thing if we had been in his position. You give a white man all that power and he's bound to run away with himself. I think he should at least be given another chance."

A Southern congressman was so mad when I broke the news that he could hardly talk. "If there's anything worse than a black man passing as one of us, it's a white man passing as one of them. How can we judge people fairly if we don't know what race they belong to? I think we should find out how many more white people are pretending they're black so they can reap the benefits of the Great Society."

A LIBERAL CONGRESSMAN said: "If we don't seat Adam Clayton Powell this time, the white people all over America are going to rise up in anger and take out their frustrations on this Congress. Adam Clayton Powell may not have been punished because he is white, but the important thing is that the people think he was, and he has now become a rallying cause for 'white power.'"

"Then you predict a long hot summer with white riots in the streets?"

"It could come to that. The white people are getting tired of having everyone promise them things and no one delivering them. They see in Adam Clayton Powell not a wrong-doer, but someone who is being punished only because he's a Caucasian."

SEVERAL NEGRO LEADERS were also upset by the revelation that Powell told his wife he was white. One said: "I've got nothing against Adam Clayton Powell personally, but I think he should be punished as an example to other members of Congress who think they can get away with anything just because we've mistreated the white people all these years."

A militant Negro said, "Well, there goes the faith, baby. The only thing that can save us now is if Sen. Dodd turns out to be one of us."

The last Negro I spoke to just shook his head and said, "And to think Powell wanted to marry my sister."

Transit Board Agenda

The Marin County Transit District Board Wednesday will consider job description and salary for a transit district manager and discuss further the improvement of bus service. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center.

Auto Accident Injures Rider

James Mathis, 18, of 47 Harbor Street, Apt. 41, San Rafael, was in good condition in Marin General Hospital with a head injury today after a car in which he was a passenger hit a parked auto at Vivian Way, San Rafael.

Driver of the car, Scott W. Robinson, 18, of 55 Marquard Street, San Rafael, was uninjured.

Future Of Camping Dogs To Be Debated

Dogs can't stay overnight in state park system campgrounds. A public hearing on whether that rule should be changed, and how, will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday in San Francisco.

State Parks and Recreation Director William Penn Mott Jr. and State Park Commissioner Alfred J. Stern will preside at the hearing in Room 1194 of the state building annex, 445 Golden Gate Avenue.

The moon has reached its last quarter. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

Born on this day in 1863 was American painter Cecelia Beaux.

In 1884, work was started in Chicago on a 10-story building to be called "the skyscraper."

In 1960, the Russians shot down an American U-2 plane on a spy mission over the Soviet Union.

A thought for the day—American writer Christopher Morley once said: "If you have to keep reminding yourself of a thing, perhaps it isn't so."

TIME AND TIDE

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

You Have To Remember Which Larry Weiss Has The Cards

If the statement confuses you, think of what happens when a Larry Weiss wins a bridge tournament or wises up the bridge community with a letter to a bridge magazine.

Opening lead — ♠ A

This sort of thing happens often, because both gentlemen are among the best bridge players in the United States.

This could hardly be a request to continue spades because no particular good could come of leading a spade to dummy's king and also because East could have requested a spade continuation (if he wanted it) with some less flamboyant play, such as the nine or eight of spades.

SPOTS STRATEGY

This is a way of telling your partner to switch, but to prefer one suit to the others.

OBEYS SIGNAL

Since declarer had already lost the first three tricks he had to overruff with the ace of hearts.

Now he could draw two rounds of trumps with the queen and jack, but had to give up the setting trick to West's ten of hearts.

♠ A J 4
♥ 10 7 2
♦ K J 8 7 5
♣ 10 3

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one notrump. This shows about 9 or 10 points in high cards (perhaps even a "good" 8 or a "bad" 11 points), balanced distribution and at least one stopper in the opponent's suit.

NOTICE OF IMPROVEMENT SPECIAL ASSESSMENT DISTRICT NO. 8

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 18th day of April, 1967, the Sanitary Board of the Richardson Bay Sanitary District, Marin County, California, adopted its Resolution of Intention No. 720 wherein it did declare that in its opinion the public interest and convenience required, and that it was the intention of said Board to order the following acquisitions and improvements in and for said District:

(a) The construction and installation of sanitary sewer mains, standard manholes and rod holes, together with the necessary wye branches, laterals and appurtenances in easements to be acquired or in dedicated City streets or County roads along various routes particularly described as follows:

Beginning at a point at the end of the existing sanitary sewer main located 80 feet Northeast of the Northerly line of Tiburon Boulevard at a point approximately 900 feet Southeast of the intersection of Tiburon Boulevard with Knoll Road; running thence from said point of beginning in an existing easement Northwest about 40 feet; running thence in an easement to be acquired between Parcels 34-142-26 and 34-142-43 as shown on the Assessor's Maps of Marin County for the fiscal year 1966-67 Northeast about 200 feet to a point in Bay Vista Drive; running thence Southeasterly along Bay Vista Drive about 400 feet; thence leaving Bay Vista Drive and running along Sky Road about 360 feet.

Beginning at a point in Bay Vista Drive, said point located Northwest about 400 feet from the intersection of Bay Vista Drive with Sky Road, running thence westerly along Bay Vista Drive about 250 feet.

(b) The acquisition of a right of service and use in the existing sanitary sewerage and sewage disposal facilities of the Richardson Bay Sanitary District.

(c) The acquisition of all lands and easements for the construction, maintenance and operation of said sewer mains along the routes above described and the performing of all work auxiliary to any of the above necessary to complete the same.

All of said work and improvements are to be constructed at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes, dimensions and materials, and at the lines, grades and elevations shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications preliminarily approved therefor by the Sanitary Board of said District and on file for public inspection in the office of the Secretary.

Notice is hereby given of the fact that in many cases said work and improvements will bring the finished surface of the ground to a grade different from the surface as it now exists, and that to said extent said grades will be changed and that said work will be done to said changed grades.

Said contemplated acquisitions and improvements, in the opinion of said Board, are of more than local or ordinary public benefit, and the costs and expenses thereof are made chargeable upon an assessment district, the exterior boundaries of which district are the composite and consolidated area as more particularly shown on a map thereof on file in the office of the Secretary, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars. Said map indicates by a boundary line the extent of the territory included in the proposed district and shall govern for all details as to the extent of the assessment district.

The estimated cost of said project is $24,306.75.

Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments and bear interest at the rate of not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided in the Improvement Bond Act of 1915 (Division 10 of the Streets and Highways Code), the last installment of which bonds shall mature at not to exceed fourteen (14) years from the second day of July next succeeding ten months from their date.

The descriptions of the acquisitions and improvements and the termini of the work contained in the Resolution of Intention are general in nature. All items of work do not necessarily extend for the full length of the description thereof. The plans and profiles of the work, and maps and descriptions, as contained in the Engineer's report, shall be controlling as to the correct and detailed description thereof.

Except as herein otherwise provided for the issuance of bonds, said work shall be done pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913.

Reference is hereby made to proceedings had pursuant to Division 4 of the Streets and Highways Code, all on file in the office of the Secretary.

Notice is further given that the District Engineer, pursuant to said Act and said Resolution of Intention adopted pursuant thereto, did on the 18th day of April, 1967, file with the Secretary of said District his report in writing on said acquisitions and improvements, consisting of plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs and incidental expenses, diagram and assessment, maps and descriptions, and said Board did on said date consider and examine said report and by resolution preliminarily approved and confirmed same and ordered that said report shall stand as the report for the purposes of all subsequent proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution of Intention.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that Tuesday, the 23rd day of May, 1967, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock P.M. of said day, in the regular meeting place of said Board, Trestle Glen Sewage Treatment Plant, Jefferson Avenue and Tiburon Highway, Tiburon, California, are the time and place appointed and fixed by said Board when and where it will consider and finally determine whether the public interest and convenience require said acquisitions and improvements, and when it will consider and determine whether the owners of a majority of the area of the property in the proposed assessment district have protested against said acquisitions and improvements or any portion thereof, and when and where it will consider and finally act upon the Engineer's report filed pursuant to said Resolution of Intention and when and where it will hear all protests in relation to said proposed acquisitions and improvements, or to the grades at which said work will be done, or the extent of the assessment district, or to the Engineer's estimate of the costs and expenses thereof, or to the proposed diagram and assessment, or to the maps and descriptions, and that any person interested may file a written protest with the Secretary at or before the time set for the hearing referred to herein.

Reference is hereby made to said Resolution of Intention and said report, including plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs, diagram and assessment, and maps and descriptions for a more particular description of said acquisitions and improvements to be had and done, and for further particulars, all on file in the office of the Secretary.

Dated: April 18, 1967.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

The Needed Immunizations For International Travel

The health hazards and requirements of international travel should be clearly understood. Smallpox vaccination is mandatory for reentry into the United States. The public health service also recommends typhoid and para typhoid plus a tetanus booster and polio vaccine. From here on, inoculations needed depend upon the itinerary of the traveler.

VAN DELLEN

Cholera immunization is suggested whenever the disease exists in places to be visited. This protection also might come in handy when returning to America from a country in which

TV REVIEW

Another Late Show Set Tonight

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —The battle for television's late-night audience is accelerated again tonight when a two-hour Monday-through-Friday Las Vegas series debuts on well over 100 stations around the country.

It was just two weeks ago that ABC-TV offered its new late-night show with Joey Bishop to compete with NBC-TV's Johnny Carson program, which pretty much had the field to itself before that. Thus far, as expected, ratings indicated Carson is not feeling much heat from Bishop.

THE DEBUT

Tonight's fledgling entry, "The Las Vegas Show," with Bill (Jose Jimenez) Dana as the regular host, also marks the debut of the United Network, a broadcasting organization controlled by Southwest businessmen. President of the network is Ollie Treyz, who formerly was the boss of BC-TV.

"The Las Vegas Show" will originate from the Hacienda Hotel in the Nevada city, and Dana and a repertory company of five performers—Ann Elder, Pete Barbutti, Danny Meehan, Joanne Worley and Cully Richards—will be the mainstays. They will be joined by visiting celebrities, and in addition there will be taped segments capitalizing on the talent performing at Las Vegas' other name hotels.

THE GUESTS

Tonight's premiere of the color series, for instance, is scheduled to have Milton Berle, Abbe Lane and, the comedy team of Allen and Rossi as the celebrities visiting Dana as his troupe.

The taped lounge acts for the debut include Sarah Vaughn, Billy Daniels, Chad and Jeremy, Dave Astor, the Trombones Unlimited, Jackie and Gayle, Big Tiny Little and the team of Davis and Reese.

Tomorrow's visiting celebrities are scheduled to be Sheila MacRae, Pat Henry and Craig Stevens, and the tape lounge acts are Della Reese, Julius LaRosa, Don Cornell and Helen O'Connell.

The only major network left now without a late-night series is CBS-TV, and it is pretty generally expected that this organization will also enter the competition within the next year or so. There has been some talk about possibly scheduling late-night network movies, but more recent reports have emphasized the interest of Jackie Gleason in doing a talk-and-show-business series for night owl viewers.

16-Year-Old Confesses He Killed Parents

GILMER, Tex. (AP) — Authorities quoted Jerry Hadaway, a 6-foot-2 teen-ager, yesterday as saying he killed his parents and grandfather with a shotgun after a family row.

The three were shot Thursday night at their East Texas farm home seven miles southwest of Gilmer near the Pritchett community.

Relatives went there Saturday, learned the three were missing and began a search. Tractor marks led to a newly dug spot in a pasture not far rfom the white frame house.

Under six inches of earth they found the bodies of Dale Hadaway, 44; his wife Dorothy, 33, and the slain man's father, Earnert J. Hadaway, 71.

Dist. Atty. Lowell Holt charged young Hadaway with murder. He was ordered held without bond.

Since Hadaway won't be 17 until August, it will be up to Dist. Judge L.E. Lindsey to decide whether the youth shall be tried before his next birthday as a juvenile or afterward as an adult.

Draft Boss Gives Views On Call Ups

WASHINGTON (AP) — There could come a time, says Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey, when the United States, fighting for survival, could ill afford conscientious objectors.

Hershey, who counts a "great many" c.o.'s among his friends, said he cautions them occasionally: "If we ever get in the lifeboat where everybody has to pull an oar, they will have to pull an oar or we will have to throw them overboard."

Hershey's views on conscientious objectors and other aspects of picking men for the draft were expressed to the House Appropriations Committee in February but not made public until yesterday.

The three-star general stood up for the principle of leaving in the hands of local draft boards the basic decision of who goes and who stays. The alternative, he said, is to centralize the system and allow perhaps one man to decide—"and then when he maies a mistake it is reflected in 4,000 boards."

Eighth Graders To Fete Reagan With Chicken

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Ronald Reagan likes fried chicken. He said so in a letter to an eighth-grade class in Mount Diablo Unified School District, accepting an invitation to lunch tomorrow with the class on the lawn west of the Capitol.

The invitation was written by eighth-grader Tom Bornstein, who told the governor his mother was going to fix the fried chicken, and "boy does she fix it good!"

The young student also advised the governor the class "washed planes and collected pop bottles and earned $30 which was the cost of the trip." The district, he said, can't pay for these kinds of trips, but he thinks the teacher just made them earn the mony so they would appreciate it more.

"I would supply you with your bag lunch," the young student said, "and you will not be obligated because I have not even told my class that I have written this letter."

Reagan Gives His Views On Respect Of Law

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Reagan told a Law Day audience today that "What free men must achieve in order to remain free is a delicate balance wherein some liberty is sacrificed in order that the remainder can be preserved."

The governor contended that "liberty, without law, without legal safeguards, is not and cannot be liberty in the long run. It becomes, instead, license, revolution and anarchy."

His call for respect for law came at a luncheon before a University of Southern California audience.

Reagan said it was fitting to celebrate Law Day "on May 1 — the same day that lawless communism celebrates the anniversary of the Red revolution."

Giant Wave Drowns Pair

SAN PEDRO (AP)—A sailor and his wife were washed into the Pacific Ocean by a giant wave and drowned.

The couple, James Smith, 22, and his wife Diane, 19, were strolling hand in hand yesterday near Point Fermin when the water hit. With them were another sailor and his wife, Larry Allen, 20, and Patsy, 19.

Flight To Honor Wedding Fatal One

ALESSANDRIA, Italy (UPI) —Pilot Giuseppe Freschi, 51, and Pietro Cresta, 45, loaded rice and white carnations aboard a two-seat plane yesterday and took off to "bomb" a wedding with the nuptial symbols.

The plane swooped low near the church, snapped off a wing against a tree and crashed, killing both men.

Warriors Lose Meschery

NEW YORK (AP) — Three Boston Celtics and three Baltimore Bullets were among the first 16 players announced today as selected by the new Seattle and San Diego franchises of the National Basketball Association.

(The Independent-Journal learned that three members of the San Francisco Warriors were picked. Forward Tom Meschery and forward-center Bud Olsen of Tiburon were selected by Seattle and guard Paul Neumann was picked by San Diego.

(Neumann already has announced his retirement from pro basketball to coach freshmen at Stanford, his alma mater, while Meschery, a Tiburon resident, today was quoted as saying he would quit basketball to join the Peace Corps and teach basketball in Korea.)

CLOSED SESSION

The NBA expansion draft was a closed session. Only the list of names was released and not the order in which the players were selected.

The 14 remaining players, giving each of the new clubs a 15-man veteran roster, were to be announced later in the day. The players were part of the $1,750,000 entry fee for each franchise.

Boston lost Toby Kimball and Jim Barnett to San Diego and Ron Watts to Seattle. Baltimore lost John Barnhill and John Green to San Diego and Ben Warley to Seattle.

The first eight players selected by San Diego included Kimball, Barnett, Barnhill and Green, and Gerry Ward and Don Kojis from the Chicago Bulls, Dave Gambee from the Philadelphia 76ers and John McGlockin from Cincinnati.

Seattle's first eight included Watts, Warley and Henry Akin from the New York Knickerbockers, Walt Hazzard from the Los Angeles Lakers, Meschery, Dorie Murrey from the Detroit Pistons, Rod Thorn from the St. Louis Hawks and Bob Weiss from the Philadelphia 76ers.

FREEZE

Each of the clubs that operated in the 1966-67 season was allowed to freeze seven men. After one man was taken, one more player could be frozen.

The new clubs plan to operate next season. They also will participate in the college draft Wednesday in which the Detroit Pistons are expected to select Jimmy Walker of Providence as the No. 1 draftee.

Anglers Flood Lakes

An awful lot of trout made an awful lot of fishermen happy last Saturday, although not in record fashion, as the 1967 trout season opened in Marin County.

More than 2,300 anglers showed up at Lake Lagunitas, bagged 582 limits and 10,600 fish, up to Lagunitas standards, a Marin County fish and game warden reported.

Anglers streamed to Marin County from all over the Bay Area. In addition to the usual Marin representatives, a majority of the other fishermen came from the East Bay and San Francisco.

Fishing in streams was below par due to heavy rains preceding the opening of the season. Conditions were difficult, with high waters. There were practically no limits caught in the streams, but some steelhead catches were reported.

VIOLATIONS

The fish and game warden said there were quite a few bonfire violations reported in the early mornings. He also warned against littering violations.

Lake Lagunitas, which will be restocked this week, will be open six days a week for fishing while Nicasio Lake is open for anglers seven days a week.

A number of the opening day anglers were youngsters this time around along with the usual share of old pros who will be coming back week after week.

Fishing was also heavy at Stafford Lake in Novato, with hundreds of men, women and children getting in some action. Stafford was opened for fishing Saturday morning, with opening day anglers catching black bass, perch and blue gill. No trout were stocked at Stafford.

Giants Head For N.Y. And Series With Mets

S.F. Boys Take Three From L.A.

NEW YORK (AP) — A happy band of San Francisco Giants flew eastward today, fortified for their three-game series starting tomorrow against the New York Mets with a three-game sweep of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Happiest men on the flight were Jimmy Davenport, who drove home two decisive runs in a three-run seventh inning yesterday and big right-hander Bob Bolin who entered that inning in a 1-1 pitchers' deadlock with Don Drysdale.

Jimmy Hart opened the inning with a single and Tom Haller's one-baser sent him to third. Ollie Brown bounced high to Jim Lefebvre at third and Hart beat the throw home. Hal Lanier's sacrifice put Haller on third and Brown on second. Both scored on pinch hitter Davenport's slashing single to center to make it 4-1.

DOWN THE MIDDLE

Gleeful Jimmy D. said he's always considered Drysdale the hardest of all National League pitchers to hit, highly respecting his breaking stuff.

"I guess the one I hit must have got away from him," Davenport remarked. "It came right down the middle."

The triumph gave the Giants their first three - game series sweep in Los Angeles and their 100th win over the Dodgers. It came before a crowd of 36,848. And it put the San Franciscans in seventh place, a full game ahead of their Southland rivals.

Bolin, off to a wobbly start, surrendered the Dodgers' run in the first inning. He walked John Roseboro with the bases loaded, forcing Ron Hunt across.

He yielded only three hits—but two of them were combined with two walks for that score. He yielded the mound to Frank Linzy after Davenport batted for him in the sixth.

TIED IN FIFTH

Drysdale held the Giants hitless until two were out in the fifth. Then Lefebvre's error put Ollie Brown on first. Hal Lanier's double down the right field line scored Ollie for 1-1.

The Giants scored a fifth run in the ninth off reliever Ron Perranoski. Singles by Haller, Brown and Lanier did it.

Tomorrow night, it'll be Gaylord Perry (1-2) for the Giants against Jack Fisher, a former Giant, also (1-2). Last season, Perry was 1-2 against the Mets, Fisher 2-2 against the Giants.

THE HEADLESS WONDER

Why Not Chaplain Clay?

JIM GILMARTIN

Black Muslim Minister Needed In Front Lines

NYTOL — Phew! That was a close call. But we can relax and sleep tight from now on.

I mean, there for a while I feared Cassius Clay would change his mind and accept induction into the Army. How would you like THAT character defending democracy?

But good old Cassius lived up to his moral potential and saved the United States Armed Forces from a terrific military setback. He don't have no quarrel with them Viet Congs. Thank goodness.

SUDDEN THOUGHT: Since Clay is hiding behind the security blanket of religion in his great draft dodge, why doesn't this Black Muslim minister volunteer as a front line chaplain?

THE SWEEP — The Giants' apple pie sweep in Los Angeles proved two things: (1) They can beat second division opposition and (2) Ray Sadecki is alive and in the bullpen (I saw him warming up Friday night).

PREDICTION — Paul Neumann, who quit the Warriors to become freshman basketball coach at Stanford (for a terrific cut in pay, and with a wife and five kids to support, yet) will succeed Howie Dallmar as the Indians' head coach within two years.

ACE CHASE — Golfers should circle the date May 13 on their calendars. That's when the Redwood High School Benchwarmers Club stages its annual hole-in-one contest at the school's athletic field. Mrs. Charles Gondak of Larkspur will be back to defend the title she won last year.

SUPER SCOUT — Joe Anselmo of San Rafael is No. 1 scout in the Atlanta Braves' organization. At least that's the way he's listed among Atlanta's 30 scouts. Alphabetically.

Anselmo, who also manages the San Rafael Braves of the top-flight Western (semi-pro) Baseball Association, hopes to sign USC ace southpaw pitcher Bill Lee for the summer schedule.

Lee, a Terra Lindan, would be a terrific drawing card on the local scene, but he may skip town and play with the Alaska Goldpanners this summer.

OLD PRO — S.F. Warrior forward Tom Meschery's signature is in Vietnam.

Immediately after his team's heart-breaking loss to the Philly 76ers last Monday at the Cow Palace, the dejected Meschery was approached by a lady who requested his autograph ". . . for my Marine son in Vietnam — a real fan of yours."

THE ACTOR — Elmer Collett of Mill Valley, member of the silver medal-winning U.S. water polo team in the 1936 Olympics, will play one of the leads in the Tamalpais Mountain Play "Kismet" May 14-21.

Collett, chief assistant U.S. attorney, is father of two well-known former Tam High sports stars, Elmer Jr., who has been signed by the S.F. 49ers, and Cedric.

Late Rally By Cerrudo Wins Tourney

That once was on the last hole and the final shot and gave Cerrudo his second title in the last three years with a one-stroke victory over Dan James, 209-210.

Cerrudo, who won the tournament in 1965, shot a final round of four-under par 68 to catch James, who led last week, on the final hole.

Both players reached the 18th hole tied for the lead but James three-putted while Cerrudo got a birdie on a 10-foot putt.

James had a five-stroke lead at the start of the final round, but Cerrudo put up his challenge by getting a 14-foot eagle on the third hole, then birdied the fourth, fifth and eighth hole.

Softballers Win Doubleheader

A pair of outstanding pitching performances by Morey and Gary Swarm paced Sohner Tree Service of San Anselmo to a softball doubleheader sweep last night over Alburt's Men's Wear at Alameda's Washington Park.

Sohner won the opener, 1-0, behind Morey's one-hit hurling and then grabbed a 2-1 verdict in the nightcap as Gary allowed the Alameda team only two hits. The Treemen have now won their last five games.

National League-Leading Soccer Team Fires Coach

Peter H. Block, president of the Phantoms, said Co Prins of Amsterdam, Holland, the team's leading scorer, will be the player-coach. Ted Degroot, the club's director of player personnel, will assist with the coaching chores.

DeGroot was born in Holland and played soccer there and in Scotland before coming to the United States about 11 years ago.

The firing of Bedl of Essen, Germany, came as no surprise despite the club's lofty standing. Bedl had been publicly feuding with the front office since last week when Block ordered him to open up the team's offense.

Block said he told the coach to concentrate on the attack throughout the game rather than to sit on a lead once the Phantoms are out in front.

Marin Nine Divides Twin Bill

College of Marin's baseball team gave Golden Valley Conference leader Santa Rosa a wild weekend Saturday, handing the Bearcubs their first league loss and also coming from way back to nearly sweep a doubleheader at Kentfield.

The Tars won the opener, 5-4, behind the three-hit pitching of Ron Gilliam and the hitting of Ron Laruffa and Pat Puccinelli. They lost the second game 7-5.

Gilliam didn't give up a hit after the second inning and struck out six. Laruffa and Puccinelli blasted out three hits each but the big heroes for the Tars were the Santa Rosa players. The Tars got one run on five walks in the fourth inning and scored the winner with the help of a pair of Santa Rosa errors.

The Tars trailed in the nightcap, 5-0, when they struck for two runs in the sixth inning and added three in the seventh to send it into extra innings. Bill Hall's two-run triple was the big blow in the tying rally.

Little Chi Chi Helps Others Who're Down On Their Luck

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez, down on his luck for three years, won the $20,000 first place purse in the Texas Open Golf Tournament yesterday and promptly donated $5,000 to some others down on their luck.

The small Puerto Rican, who's a favorite with the gallery because of his clowning antics, was deadly serious as he fired five-under-par 66 to surge from second place to the championship in the 72-hole tournament. He had a 277.

New Zealander Bob Charles, who shared second place with Rodriguez following the second round, fired a hot four-under-par front nine in the final 18, added a birdie on the back side, then canceled it with a bogey to finish one-stroke behind the red-hot Rodriguez.

Bob Goalby, who shared the lead two days, fired a fine three-under-par 68. The Palm Springs, Calif. pro finished at 278 to tie for second place with Charles.

The two other third round leaders, Miller Barber and Billy Casper, faltered and fell to one-over 72s. They finished at 282 behind Charles and Goalby.

Rodriguez deadlocked for the lead in the first round by firing a 68, but his putter turned to ice on the second and third rounds and he fell behind.

He stayed on the lighted practice green putting for hours after the round both nights and said yesterday it was his putter that won it for him.

"This is the best putting I've done in two years," he said.

The 31-year-old, 125-pounder said he was going for the Pecan Valley Country Club course record of 65 so he could win a standing offer of $6,500.

"I was thinking about the course record all the way," he said. "I'm giving $5,000 to the people hurt in the Chicago tornado."

Even though he didn't beat the record, he said, the tornado victims will get a check anyway.

"I had a feeling all week that I was going to win," he added.

Rodriguez started his winning round with a bogey but he birdied the next hole, played par golf for five holes and then birdied eight and nine.

On 11 and 14, he dropped putts of 20 feet for birdies, made another birdie from three feet on 13 and chipped to within inches for still another birdie on 15.

Rodriguez hadn't won since he took two tournaments in 1964 and he was rated 56th in the PGA official earnings for this year. The check here raises his total to $26,214 for 1967.

49ER QUARTERBACKS GALORE

Spurrier To Be No. 3 Man

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer

For the time being at least Heisman Trophy winner Steve Spurrier is going to have to settle for the No. 3 slot on the quarterback list of the San Francisco 49ers.

The 22-year-old All-American from the University of Florida signed a "multi-year" contract for an estimated $250,000 Saturday. No sooner had the announcement of his signing been made when San Francisco Coach Jack Christiansen made it clear Spurrier is No. 3 behind John Brodie and George Mira.

"No question when a boy is good enough to win the Heisman Trophy (symbolic of the No. 1 collegiate football player) he has to be quite a football player," explained Christiansen, "but at the moment is No. 3 behind John and George."

Spurrier, son of a Presbyterian minister and secretary of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes chapter at Florida, took the announcement philosophically.

"I know I'll have to play behind Brodie and Mira at the start," he said evenly, "but all of that could change. Football is a funny game and things often

Sooners To Name Mackenzie's Heir

Sources indicated a successor might be named on an interim basis as early as tomorrow, and most believed it would be either offense coach Chuck Fairbanks or defense coach Pat James.

Fairbanks, James, and assistants Buck Nystrom, Galen Hall, Bill Gray and Barry Switzer all were in Gary, Ind., for the burial today.

No official word on a successor was given, but Athletic Director Gomer Jones said work on selection of a new coach would start "as soon as possible." The annual varsity-alumni football game is scheduled for Saturday, and the Sooners have half of their alloted 20 spring practice days left.

Almost all sources indicated the new coach would be one of the two assistants, at least on an interim basis through the fall. Fairbanks has been Mackenzie's spokesman when he has been away this spring, and some observers feel he will be the choice.

Fairbanks, 33, coached the Sooner defensive backfield last season. He was offensive coach and assistant head coach at Houston in 1965 before coming to Oklahoma. He also served as an assistant at Arizona State. Fairbanks played college ball at Michigan State.

Like Mackenzie, James played for Kentucky in the early 1950s. He coached with Paul (Bear) Bryant at Kentucky, Texas A&M and Alabama before going to LSU in 1963.

Campbell Wins North-South Golf Title

Campbell is coming. Bill Campbell.

The, 43-year-old Huntington, W. Va., insurance executive played Saturday like a man ready for Walker Cup competition later this month against Britain's best at Sandwich, England.

Campbell chopped down highly regarded Bill Hyndman 10 and 9 in Saturday's finals of the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament.

Campbell lost only one of the 27 holes as he played three-under-par golf in recording the second most one-sided finals victory in the history of the tournament.

Campbell looked back to his 19-hole quarter-final victory over Morris Beecroft of Newport News, Va., as his "brush with fate; the moment of truth you face in any tournament."

Campbell had a 4-up lead through six holes. But he was two down with two to play.

Beecroft three-putted the last hole and lost on the 19th.

"After I won that one I began to relax a little and I began to gain confidence," Campbell said.

He equalled par 72 of the 7,000-yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club in the morning round of the scheduled 36-hole final, and took a 4-up lead to lunch.

"I felt that wasn't a safe lead against a player as capable as Bill and I knew I had to win some more holes," he said.

Spurrier's drafting by the 49ers touched off a string of reports the club would trade either Brodie or Mira to give the newcomer a chance to break in quickly.

His signing Saturday did nothing to dispel those rumors although San Francisco general manager Lou Spadia and Christiansen insisted the club will go with three quarterbacks.

"Injuries being what they are in pro football you just have to have three quarterbacks," said Christiansen. "We'll go to training camp in July with Brodie No. 1, Mira No. 2 and Spurrier No. 3."

Christiansen tried to explain to newsmen, and Spurrier, too, that being No. 3 as a rookie isn't all that bad.

"Remember Bobby Layne," he said. "He was a pretty good college quarterback, too, and he only got to play one minute in his rookie pro year. It took Earl Morrall and Johnny Unitas quite some time, too, before they got to play on a regular basis. You just can't jump from the college ranks into the pros and make it right off the bat."

'I Could Beat All Of Them In One Night,' Boasts Clay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cassius Clay said yesterday he could beat in one night all of the political successors to the heavyweight boxing title he lost when he refused induction into military service.

"What chump you think they can pick in a tournament I can't beat?" he asked a reporter.

The World Boxing Association and the New York State Athletic Commission stripped him of his heavyweight title when he refused to be drafted Friday in Houston, Tex.

Plans are being made for elimination tournaments to choose a successor.

SPORTS SHORTS

BUCS WIN 4TH STRAIGHT

Cardinals Blanked

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Juan Pizarro thrives on hard work and as long as the Pittsburgh Pirates keep him occupied they might win themselves a pennant.

Pizarro made his second start of the year yesterday and limited the hard-hitting St. Louis Cardinals to just four singles as the Pirates extended their winning streak to four games with a 2-0 shutout victory.

Pizarro won 75 and lost 47 in six years with the White Sox and had his greatest season in the majors in 1964 when he posted a 19-9 record. But the following year he injured his arm and was used mainly in relief in 1966.

In other National League action, Philadelphia overcame Atlanta 6-4 in the first game of a doubleheader and lost the second 6-3, New York shut out Cincinnati 2-0 before the Reds gained a 3-2 victory in the nightcap. Chicago downed Houston 4-1 and San Francisco topped Los Angeles 5-1.

Pizarro, who struck out eight in his first appearance against the Cardinals since 1960, was backed up by batterymate Jerry May's timely hitting.

The Pittsburgh catcher singled home Bill Mazeroski in the second inning and belted his initial homer of the season in the fifth to account for all the Pirate runs.

Rookie Rich Nye pitched a four-hitter and Ron Santo hit a three-run homer in the first inning to lead the Cubs to their second straight victory over the Astros. Houston, losing for the 13th time in its last 16 games, scored its run when Ron Davis doubled and Sonny Jackson singled in the sixth.

Two consecutive pinch hit doubles by Don Lock and Gary Sutherland gave the Phillies a come-from-behind victory in the opener of a doubleheader. Home runs by Felipe Alou, his second of the day, and Hank Aaron and three errors by Philly third baseman Richie Allen enabled the Braves to split the twinbill.

Don Cardwell snapped the four game winning streak of league leading Cincinnati by spinning a three-hit shutout. The Mets managed only two safetys off Billy McCool and Ted Abernathy, but one, a home run by Ron Swoboda provided the margin of victory.

Gary Nolan outpitched fellow rookie Tom Seaver to gain the win in the nightcap. The Reds scored the winning run in the sixth on singles by Vada Pinson, Lee May and Deron Johnson. Tommy Davis accounted for both Met runs with his second homer of the year.

Lester, Austin To Fight Tonight

Hard punching Jimmy Lester and veteran middleweight Charley Austin meet tonight at Kezar Pavilion in a scheduled 10-round fight. The card opens at 8:30.

Lester of San Francisco hopes to earn a bout with New York's Joey Archer by beating former Arizona middleweight champ Austin, now of San Diego.

In a co-featured 10-rounder, Rollie Penarova of Stockton meets Lupe Gonzales of Mexico. Penaroya has won nine straight since coming to the United States from Cebu City, the Philippines.

Black Jack Nichols and George Kaftan, two former stars of the Boston Celtics, are practicing dentists.

I married a bartender

Yes, he fishes, too. Also bowls a respectable 178. And talks better golf than he plays, but who doesn't?

On the job, he wears a dozen hats. He's a psychologist. A sports and current events expert. A counselor on you-name-your problem. The world's most tactful and sympathetic friend. A teller of good tales and a joke-appreciator.

Off the job, he's Number One with neighbors, friends, kids, cats and dogs. I could call him the perfect husband. If it weren't for his hours.

Note from Hiram Walker: He's Number One with us, too. And because May is National Tavern Month, won't you join us in a toast to your favorite man-behind-the-bar?

Yank Netters Shut Out Foes

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP) — Charles Pasarell and Cliff Richey scored easy victories yesterday and sewed up a 5-0 U.S. sweep of the British West Indies in the first round of the American Zone Davis Cup play.

Pasarell, from Puerto Rico, whipped Richard Russell of Jamaica 6-2, 6-2, 6-2, while Richey, from San Angelo, Tex., took Lance Lumsden, of Jamaica 6-2, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

The U.S. team next plays Mexico.

Phillies' Dick Groat Still Out Of Action

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Shortstop Dick Groat of the Philadelphia Phillies will be sidelined at least until next weekend because of inflammation of the veins and soft tissues in his right ankle, it was announced yesterday by club physician Dr. James Walker. Groat, 36, has been in St. Joseph's hospital since April 20.

WORLD'S STRONGEST ROPE

This nautical rigging, produced in a Hamburg, Germany, factory, is designed for tying up super oil tankers. The hawser will be 660 feet long and have a circumference of 14 inches. When it is completed it will be shipped to Italy for a navigation firm there. (German Feature Photo)

Redwood Orders Up In February

SAN FRANCISCO — Redwood production in February totaled 37,289,000 board feet compared with 35,595,000 feet in January, according to reports to the California Redwood Association here from 13 major mills.

Orders received in February totaled 43,943,000 feet compared with 27,112,000 feet in January. Shipments were 34,555,000 feet and 25,652,000 feet respectively.

Stocks on hand at the end of February were 428,099,000 feet compared with 430,089,000 feet at the end of the previous month.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Only Sell Growth Stocks If Pressed

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I am 65, retired, and my health is not too good. I depend entirely on my own resources. I have $19,000 in savings; George Putnam Fund; Textron; Public Service Electric & Gas; International Harvester; Corn Products; Jersey Standard; Banff Oil. I bought Banff at $1 a share and Textron at 22. Would you take the big profit on Textron?" M. R.

A. I'm sorry to learn that your health is poor and that you have no one but yourself to rely on. You have an excellent list of stocks for your circumstances. Textron currently yields 1.8 per cent — reflecting its strong growth. I would hold this stock.

I do question whether someone in your situation should hold Banff. You have a big profit here with no dividend income. I would switch it into Associated Investment.

Q. "I inherited Continental Oil convertible preferred. I need extra income now while my children are completing their education, and would like to increase the value of my estate as well. Should I convert Continental Oil pfd.? R. P.

A. It is difficult, except through hindsight, to get good income and potential capital enhancement both in the same stock. You could increase your annual return over $100 by switching into Std. Oil of New Jersey, but your growth position would be weakened.

Mart Closes Lower In Brisk Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed moderately lower in active trading today.

Losses were cut in late trading.

Gains of key issues ranged from fractions to a point or so and in a few cases there were wider moves.

Polaroid gained more than 4 points. Raytheon, American Airlines and United Air Lines advanced about 2points.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains and losses of key issues ranged from fractions to a point or so in most cases but there were a few wider swingers.

Brokers said that profit taking was whittling at prices after a long advance and that a breather at this stage was to be expected.

Ford Motor lost half a point after reporting over the weekend a 43 per cent slump in earnings in the first quarter from a year earlier. General Motors lost about 2 points and American Motors and Chrysler fell about half a point.

Boeing Aircraft gained more than a point on the strength of President Johnson's authorization for construction of a supersonic transport, for which Boeing is the prime contractor.

Sears Roebuck declined more than 2 points. Off about a point were Control Data, IBM, Xerox, Pennsylvania Railroad and Lorillard.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

Billboards Have Varying Effects

WASHINGTON (SS) — Removing billboards from the side of the roads seems to have little effect for better or worse on human reactions to the environment, the National Academy of Sciences has been told.

According to a new method of measuring quality in visual surroundings, devised by Arthur D. Little, Inc., in San Francisco, people react to the total scene, not to specific parts of it. Consequently, current piecemeal beautification programs will probably do little to enhance the urban environment, vice president Cyril Herrmann reported.

Measures of pleasure and displeasure were taken from a group of people shown slides of urban commercial scenes and landscaped. Besides having subjects rate the scenes, the test revealed where they fixed their eyes. Recent studies indicate that eye pupil dilation is related to pleasure and constriction to displeasure.

E. H. Dill To Head Builders Exchange

A partner in Dill and Sederberg Plumbing Co. of Mill Valley, he was vice president of the exchange last year. He succeeds Arthur J. Bresnan.

Louis Della Valle, general manager of Shamrock Materials, was elected vice president. Bert Le Beck of Indian Valley Lumber Co. was named secretary-treasurer.

Wilson Earnings, Sales Increase

CHICAGO — Wilson & Co., Inc., reported first quarter 1967 earnings through March were $3,883,000 as compared with $2,168,000 for the corresponding 1966 period.

Sales for the 1967 period were $254.4 million, compared with $240,850,000 in 1966. Earnings per share of common stock were $1.01 versus 55 cents in 1966.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Rose Paul Makes The Scene Again As Real Estate Broker

A name absent for a few years from the list of long established Marin County real estate offices has turned up again — Rose Paul Realty.

Mrs. Paul, who gave up her activities for other interests a while back and closed her office at 2020 Fourth Street, San Rafael, has opened a new one only a door away at 2018. During the time she has been out of the business she has kept up her membership in the Marin County Real Estate Board.

Associated with her in the office will be Mrs. Maxine Fiaccadori of Kentfield, former secretary for the Marin Society of Artists, so it goes without saying the new quarters will be appropriately decorated with paintings. Both Mrs. Paul and Mrs. Fiacoadori have been active in Marin civic and group affairs for many years.

Many of today's Marin real estate brokers got their start as salesmen with Mrs. Paul, who at one time had the largest single realty office in Marin.

Tovar Rodriguez

PAUL H. TOVAR of Novato has been appointed new chief of the data and financial management office of the Defense Contract Administration Services Region, San Francisco. He was formerly accounting officer for 16 months at the U. S. Naval Air Station in Alameda. Earlier he served seven years in the comptroller's office at the Presidio of San Francisco.

DONALD E. RODRIGUEZ of San Rafael has been appointed sales manager of Gilmore Envelope Corp. He joined Gilmore as a salesman in 1950 and has been handling the downtown San Francisco territory and the Sacramento Valley.

Zinsli Hudelson

TWO MARIN MEN are retiring from business after many years with their organizations:

Peter C. Zinsli of Greenbrae, manager of the Northern California region of Foremost Dairies, Inc., has been with the company 43 years. From 1944 to 1953 he served in various management capacities in the Sacramento office. Since then he has been Northern California regional manager. He is past president of the Northern California Milk Dealers Assn. and still a director.

T. Clyde Hudelson of Corte Madera retired from his position as vice president in charge of consumer loans at Wells Fargo Bank today — but he hasn't quite given up all work. He will continue to serve as a consultant. He joined the bank in 1935 and most of his career has centered on collections, so he is an expert in the field.

HAROLD H. MARQUIS JR. of Kentfield, president of Hoefer, Deiterich and Brown, Inc., San Francisco, has been elected vice chairman of the Northern California Council of the American Assn. of Advertising Agencies, Inc. for 1967. H. Jack Wyman of Ross, president of the Wyman Co., San Francisco is a continuing governor in the association this year. New president is John Butler, vice president and manager of Compton Advertising, San Francisco.

GRAHAM H. MOORE of San Rafael, head of the San Francisco office for Metro TV Sales since 1962, has been placed in charge of coordinating preparations for Metromedia's acquisition of KSAN-TV-UHF in the Bay Area. Prior to heading Metro in the city he was a director of sales for KSBW-TV of Salinas and its satellite station KSTP-TV in San Luis Obispo. He was also an account executive for a Minneapolis station and assistant manager and director for KCBQ Radio in San Diego.

TWO STAFF MEMBERS of Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet, Corte Madera have qualified for Chevrolet's Legion of Leaders Award, given annually to all Chevrolet salesmen who have sold 150 or more cars during the year. It is a fourth win for Elwood Frink and the sixth for Irving Sutley.

Sales Gain For Crown-Zellerbach

SAN FRANCISCO. — Crown Zellerbach Corp.'s first quarter sales reached $187.5 million, 8 per cent higher than the comparable period last year, President Peter T. Sinclair reported to the company's annual meeting of share owners.

Net income for the period was $11.7 million, an increase of 9 per cent over the first quarter of 1966. This represented the equivalent of 75 cents a share, compared with 69 cents earned last year.

Sinclair noted that although demand was generally good in many lines, the tone of the market was not as strong as was experienced in the same period last year. He said this was a reflection of conditions that have developed in various sectors of the national economy since the beginning of the year.
